Red China Pounded; Dulles Sees Chiang

DULLES SIGNS PACT—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles signs the Southeast Asia Security alliance at a ceremony in the Philippine Senate Building in Manila. (NEA Radio Telephoto).

Taipeh, Formosa, Sept. 9 (AP)—Nationalist warships and planes pounded the Red China coast again today, even as U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles pledged that Nationalist China "doesn't stand alone against the forces of aggression..."

Dulles flew here from the Southeast Asia Security Conference in Manila and spent 3 hours and 15 minutes closeted with President Chiang Kai-shek.

A high Nationalist official said "they exchanged views on questions affecting the two countries. The result was satisfactory to both." U. S. Ambassador Carl Rankin described the talk as very cordial and longer than expected.

ONLY FIVE HOURS after Dulles' special plane landed here he and his party were airborne again, headed for Tokyo.

In a statement read to newsmen at the airport he reiterated that the U. S. 7th Fleet is under orders to guard Formosa.

He said Communist China now is intensifying military and propaganda activity against the Nationalists "but we shall not be intimidated."

This statement was viewed here as a direct and challenging reply to Communist threats to "liberate" Formosa and as an endorsement of Nationalist attacks on Amoy and satellite bases from which the Reds have shelled the Nationalist base of Quemoy.

AMOY IS ONLY five miles from Quemoy, just off the China coast 120 miles west of Formosa.

A defense ministry communique issued as Dulles and Chiang were talking said Nationalist warplanes bombed and strafed military targets at Amoy and along the coast.

At the same time, the communique said, Nationalist warships bombarded Amoy and nearby Wuyu island and patrolled waters off Quemoy and Amoy.

THE MINISTRY said yesterday's operations, in which U. S.-supplied F84 thunderjets took part for the first time, destroyed two Red gunboats and over 100 wooden military boats and damaged other craft.

Nationalist warships were

Attlee Is Blasted by Red Paper

Russia and China Slandered, Stand

Moscow, Sept. 9 (AP)—Pravda blasted Britain's former prime minister Clement Attlee today, charging he had slandered Russia and China following his recent visit to the two Communist countries.

The Communist Party paper said Attlee's statements at a Hong Kong press conference showed the Labor Party leader was 100 per cent behind U. S. policy and no friend of the Russians or Chinese.

(Attlee at his September 2 press conference had countered Red Chinese boss Mao Tze-Tung's suggestion that Attlee try to influence the United States to pull out of the Formosa straights and cease rearming Japan and West Germany. The British leader said he told Mao in turn he should try to persuade the Kremlin to reduce Soviet Armaments, stop trying to undermine other governments and give its people and the satellite states more freedom.

(IN LONDON, a British Labor Party spokesman expressed surprise at the Pravda statement and said: "We consider Mr. Attlee's frank comments were in no way conflicting with the good will intentions of the mission to Moscow and China. They were characteristic of Mr. Attlee's outspokeness.)

Pravda said Attlee "did not dare to contradict" Mao's views, but "instead the head of the labor delegation applied a much-used American propaganda trick:

"He clumsily tried to change the conversation to Soviet armament.

"He asked Mao to tell the Soviet government that the Soviet Union should one-sidedly start disarming.

"Thereby Attlee made it clear that the leader of the British Labor party is ready to support the American policy of reviving German and Japanese militarism . . . The most aggressive forces in Europe and the Far East."

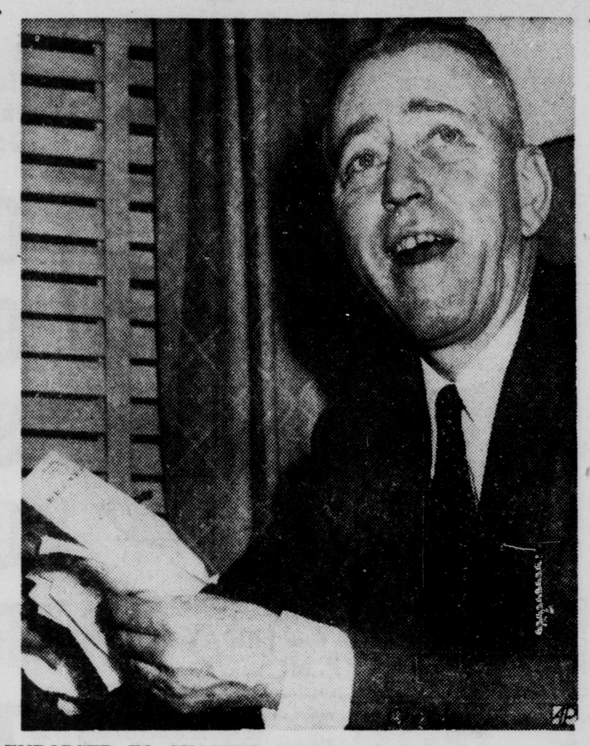

IN ORDER TO TURN world attention away from the danger of this policy, Pravda said, Attlee and the Americans talk of Soviet armament.

The paper described Attlee as a tool of U. S. and British reactionary circles and said he had turned against his Communist hosts in China and Russia after enjoying their hospitality.

CANBERRA, Australia, Sept. 9 (AP)—Clement Attlee said today the West should try to meet the legitimate demands of Communist China and other Asian nations.

He told parliamentarians at a luncheon here: "The Chinese government is essentially a merging of communism and nationalism. The developments in China are part of the great developments throughout Asia.

"The demand of the Asians is to have a place in the sun like European, Americans and Australians. We should try to meet these legitimate demands because otherwise there is a tendency to extremism."

ENDORSED TO SUCCEED DEWEY—U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives holds telegrams in his New York apartment Sept. 8 after the New York State Republican executive committee endorsed him for the state's governorship. Ives was endorsed by the committee following Sept. 7 announcement by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that he would not seek a fourth term. Ives said he hasn't "given up" trying to persuade Dewey to reconsider. (AP Wirephoto).

O'Connell Says Junior Is Man

Albany, Sept. 9 (AP) — Daniel P. O'Connell, upstate's most powerful Democratic leader, today promised to fight to the finish to gain Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt the party's gubernatorial nomination.

O'Connell, Albany county Democratic chairman, told reporters:

"I think Roosevelt is by far the best candidate. We're for him; we'll place him in nomination and vote for him and nothing will stop us, not even Roosevelt."

Harriman Seems to Be Ahead Now

GOP Selects Top Vote Harvester

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives said today he would accept the Republican nomination for governor if the state convention names him as its choice to succeed retiring Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Ives, whose Senate term has four years to run, has been endorsed by Dewey and the Republican executive committee. His nomination at the Syracuse convention starting Sept. 22 is regarded as virtually certain.

A NUMBER OF important Democratic leaders have announced they will back Averell Harriman, former Mutual Aid chief and once ambassador to Soviet Russia, for the governorship.

The Democratic state convention in New York city Sept. 21-22 may face a floor fight, however, because some elements of the party still are strong for Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., son of the late President.

Ives had earlier said repeatedly he was not a candidate for the governorship and as late as last night had attempted to prevail on Dewey to reconsider and run again.

BUT THE SENATOR told a news conference this morning he now accepts Dewey's decision as final and that he would deem it a great honor to run for governor if the party's convention delegates "desire me to do so."

"If I am nominated as the Republican candidate for governor," said Ives, "I shall wage the most forceful, the most effective, and most active campaign of which I am capable."

Sen. Ives read his statement from small sheets of pink notepaper to newsmen gathered at the Hotel Roosevelt.

He said he had written it late last night and had not had time to have typewritten copies prepared.

Quake Toll 800

Tragic Tremors Occur in Algeria

Algiers, Algeria, Sept. 9 (AP)—A tremendous earthquake struck northern Algeria today, blasting the town of Orleansville and wreaking a toll which unofficial reports put at approximately 800 dead.

The French National Defense Ministry said in Paris that it knew of at least 200 deaths.

Eyewitnesses reported that the city of 32,500 inhabitants looked as if it had gone through a heavy air bombardment.

At the Strasbourg Observatory, the shock was timed at 1:07 a. m. (8:08 p. m. EST Wednesday). Scientists there said it was the worst to hit Algeria in 40 years.

OLEANSVILLE, a modern French town built on an ancient Roman site, lies about 100 miles west of Algiers on the main rail line to Oran. It is the center of a rich farming valley. Some reports said it was 20 per cent demolished.

Barracks, stadium, postoffice, prison, hospital, two hotels, police headquarters, a small dam and a new Catholic cathedral all collapsed or suffered heavy damage. About 40 travelers were buried alive in their beds when the hotel Baudoin fell in on them.

ELECTRIC POWER was out and communications were cut. All available troops and ambulances were rushed to the area.

Governor General Roger Leonard hurried to take command of rescue operations on the spot.

The area worst hit is between Tenes, on the Mediterranean coast, and Miliana, about halfway between Orleansville and Algiers. Between Tenes and Orleansville, all villages were reported heavily damaged, with Vauban, Duperre and Rouina among the worst hit.

AN AIRLIFT for the injured was set up between Maison Blanche Airport and Algiers and the earthquake area. Among the first victims to arrive, many were suffering from fractured skulls. They said shocks had been felt throughout the area until 7 a. m. (2 a. m. EST).

A 400-bed field hospital was set up at Orleansville, and five surgeons were sent from Algiers.

Nautilus Joins Fleet Sept. 30

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Nautilus, first atomic powered submarine, will become a member of the fleet Sept. 30.

Formal commissioning ceremonies will be held then at Groton, Conn., where she has been under construction since 1952.

The Navy, announcing the commissioning date, said the Nautilus will begin her tests after the final equipment has been installed following the commissioning. This, it is understood, probably will be during the latter half of October.

SKIPPER OF the huge, nuclear-engined submersible—the first of four either being built or planned—will be Cmdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson, of San Diego, Calif. Lt. Dean L. Axene will be executive officer.

The navy said that "most of the crew of 11 officers and approximately 85 enlisted men have been in training for about three years for their unique assignment of operating the Nautilus." This training has included basic nuclear physics and actual operation of the land-based prototype of the nuclear power plant at Arco, Idaho.

Morhouse Takes Up GOP Tasks

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—The Republican State Executive Committee yesterday named L. Judson Morhouse of Ticonderoga, executive director of the New York Good Roads Assn., as acting chairman of the state Republican Committee.

Morhouse succeeds Rep. Dean P. Taylor, of Troy, who submitted his formal resignation as chairman yesterday.

Taylor was named by the committee as Republican national committeeman to succeed J. Russel Sprague of Nassau county, who resigned last spring.

The designation of Morhouse as state chairman needs confirmation by the state committee during the state convention.

TECHNICALLY, Taylor's designation needs confirmation by the Republican National Committee.

The Executive Committee also named Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck of Schenectady as temporary chairman of the GOP state convention at Syracuse Sept. 22 and 23. This makes him the convention keynoter.

State Sen. Frank S. McCullough, of Rye, was named permanent chairman of the convention.

State Sen. John H. Hughes, of Syracuse, was designated chairman of the Permanent Organization Committee of the convention.

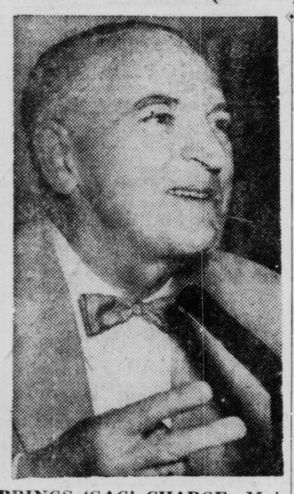

Miss Mary Donlon, of New York city, chairman of the State

McC Says He Did Nothing Wrong

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy insisted today there was nothing wrong about any of his calls for government employes to give him information, and his counsel sought to show other senators have used secret data.

Chairman Watkins (R.-Utah) of the special Senate committee weighing censure charges against McCarthy ruled, however, that the group would not look into the activities of other senators.

BRINGS 'GAG' CHARGE—Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton, former commander of Fort Monmouth, N. J., gestures on the witness stand of the Watkins Senate special committee studying McCarthy censure motions, before the Sept. 8 hearing at which he refused to testify about a conversation with Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker. The refusal brought charges by McCarthy's counsel that the Army had "definitely gagged the witness." (AP Wirephoto).

Edward Bennett Williams, McCarthy's attorney, protested that the ruling "has effectively prevented us from putting in a defense to this case."

The specific point which led to Watkins' ruling was an effort by Williams and McCarthy to have the record show that Sen. John Williams (R.-Del.) has stated that in his exposure of tax frauds he used secret information which came into his hands.

A defense brief said Sen. Williams was quoted in a magazine interview (U. S. News & World Report) as making such a statement.

Ruling it out, Watkins held that the defense was leading into "by-paths and diversions" in attempting to show what other

Dulles Lauds Defense Pact

Tokyo, Sept. 9 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles landed here tonight and said the eight Southeast Asia Defense Pact signers "took a momentous resolve to create a greater security."

Dulles flew here from Manila, with a five-hour stopover in Taipeh, for conferences with Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and other Japanese leaders.

He likened the Manila treaty signed last night to the collective action taken against the Communists in Korea.

Dulles leaves for the United States tomorrow night.

Griffin Wins In Georgia

Atlanta, Sept. 9 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin, the self-styled "white people's candidate," was swept to an apparently overwhelming victory in yesterday's Democratic primary for the nomination as governor of Georgia.

Running with the blessing of Gov. Herman Talmadge whose white supremacy championship he is pledged to continue, Griffin piled up a huge lead for all-important county unit votes—alloted to the counties on the basis of two units for each seat in the state House of Representatives.

Former Gov. M. E. Thompson, who twice unsuccessfully opposed Talmadge, was far back in second place, still clinging to a fading hope that later returns might pull him into a runoff.

BUT ON THE BASIS of latest returns, from 1,240 of 1,809 precincts in 153 of 159 counties, Griffin had an apparently insurmountable total of 154,858 popular votes which gave him the lead in counties with 282 of the state's 410 county unit votes. Only 206 unit votes are required for nomination.

Thompson had 104,443 and led in counties having 58 unit votes.

Mayor Announces Hall Changes

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today announced changes in city hall personnel and the reappointment of members of the Board of Public Works.

The personnel changes are due to two resignations effective Sept. 15.

William H. Lieske, of 72 Flatbush avenue, who has been plumbing inspector since Feb. 28, 1950, is one of the two resigning and will be succeeded by C. Lester Legg, of 227 Smith avenue, who has been a water department foreman for many years.

BLANCHE M. BURR, of 150 Highland avenue is resigning as senior clerk in the city treasurer's office, and Dorothy Cunningham, of 156 Pine street, now employed in that office will be elevated to senior clerk. Mrs. Evelyn Miller, of 139 Emerson street, has been appointed junior clerk.

David Schechter, of 51 Florence street, a former sixth ward

Democrats Begin Drive On Nationwide Basis

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 9 (AP)—The Democrats' nationwide campaign was launched today with the assertion by Adlai Stevenson nominal head of the party, that the most important task this fall is "to give direction again to a foreign policy which wallows aimlessly and dangerously while a bunch of bickering helmsmen quarrel at the wheel."

At the same time the party's 1952 nominee for president promised that Democrats this fall will "talk issues x x x whether the Republicans want to or not."

Stevenson spoke last night before 3,000 persons who paid $100 a plate each at a Democratic fund-raising dinner officially commencing the campaign of 36-year-old State Sen. George M. Leader for governor of Pennsylvania.

The keystone state has had only one Democratic state administration in nearly 60 years.

Stevenson took note of this and, borrowing from a popular Republican campaign slogan of 1952, quipped that in Pennsylvania in particular it is "really time for a change."

The speech by the former Illinois governor was the first major address by a party leader since Labor Day, the traditional opening day of campaigning.

Admitting that he is no "great admirer" to the Eisenhower administration's recent conduct of foreign affairs, Stevenson said he feels "no inclination" to blame the Republicans for the Indochina situation.

"Nor am I even tempted in this direction by Vice President Nixon's newest nonsense—that the Democrats are responsible for the loss of Indochina," he added.

He followed his remark about foreign policy wallowing aimlessly by saying that Pennsylvania in particular should be aware of this "for you have one senator in each wing."

"I mean in each major wing—for there seem to be more wings

CIO May Back FDR Jr. for Post

Albany, Sept. 9 (AP)—The state CIO Council, opening its three-day annual convention today, is expected to back Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., in his drive to capture the Democratic nomination for governor.

Louis Hollander, state CIO president, emerged from a meeting of the council's executive board yesterday and told newsmen the board felt that "Roosevelt is the only candidate that . . . will carry the state."

He said that the board's 31 members were "100 per cent" in favor of endorsing a candidate and that Roosevelt's name was the only one considered seriously at the meeting.

THE BOARD, he said, would recommend that the delegates endorse a candidate on Saturday, the day Roosevelt is scheduled to address the convention.

The council is comprised of 1,100 affiliated local unions with a total membership of about one million.

Hollander said the executive board did not consider Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York city because of Wagner's repeated disavowals of any desire to head the Democratic state ticket.

He said the board chose Roosevelt over Averell Harri-

Jail Officer Is Indicted

Boston, Sept. 9 (AP)—The chief jail officer at the Charles street jail was among 11 persons indicted yesterday on charges of aiding in the sensational escape of Elmer "Trigger" Burke, a notorious New York gunman.

Chief Guard Joseph K. McSweeney, 58, was taken into custody at the jail where he was working. Detectives said McSweeney told them: "I was off duty the day Burke escaped."

Also indicted were three guards at the jail, two prisoners and three former inmates, in addition to two indictments without names.

THE GUARDS taken into custody are Edward F. Bowers, 64, Benjamin G. Schnetzer, 32, and Robert Morgan, 28.

The inmates indicted, both of whom were served with warrants at the jail, are Cornelius Connelly, 46, of Roxbury, and Santos Dieferio, 22, also of Roxbury.

Former inmates indicted are Allen G. Locke, 45, and William Cavanaugh, 26, both of whom are being sought, and Vincent Pattierno, 38.

Burke has been described by Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne as a "psychopathic killer" and as a "killer for hire."

BURKE WAS at the Charles street jail awaiting court action on an indictment which charged him with possession of a machine gun. Police said he fired 40 slugs from the weapon early one June morning in an attempt to kill Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe, a one-time Brink's robbery suspect. O'Keefe was wounded.

Two men broke into the

Florida Is Wary Of Hurricane

Miami, Fla., Sept. 9 (AP)—Chief storm forecaster Grady Norton said today "we're not out of the woods yet" as far as Hurricane Edna is concerned and the Atlantic coast from the Melbourne-Titusville area in Florida northward to the North Carolina capes "should keep a weather eye open for possibilities."

Norton said this word of caution is not a hurricane alert—at least not yet. It is just a precautionary word that a bad storm is hovering offshore without a definite indication as to its future course.

"At 9 a. m. (EST) it was

230,000 Attend Marian Year Rites in Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 9 (AP)—An estimated 230,000 persons filled huge Soldier Field to overflowing last night at a colorful, sacred Roman Catholic ceremony marking the major tribute of the Marian Year in the Chicago Archdiocese.

The vast multitude of worshippers who paid reverent tribute to the Mother of Christ filled every seat in the big lake front stadium. Thousands pressed out into the grassy field near the specially built altar in midfield. Other thousands remained outside the stadium and heard the ceremonies over loud speakers.

The crush at the gates resulted in 19 persons being hospitalized. No serious injuries were reported but police said that about 100 persons were given treatment at first aid stations. Most of those affected fainted while others suffered from shock or exhaustion or were bruised as the throng pressed through the gates.

Officials had expected an attendance of 150,000. Park dis-

Carnival, Track Event Raises $800 To Promote Play

Woodstock, Sept. 9—Mrs. Milton Wagenfohr, chairman of the first recreation field carnival and track meet, and her assistant, Miss Judy Wagenfohr, presented a check for $800, proceeds from the carnival to Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, chairman of the recreation committee, at town clerk's office Tuesday night. Assemblyman Wilson thanked Mrs. Wagenfohr and Miss Wagenfohr for their splendid work with the carnival, and also thanked Andrew Shekitka for his excellent management of the recreation field this summer.

Plans were announced for a similar carnival to be held next season during the Labor Day weekend, and a planning committee will be set up by Joseph Fitzsimmons, town supervisor.

A contribution to the recreation fund was also announced, from the Woodstock Jones Boys, the baseball team under the management of Roger Jones, of the Woodstock Sports, in the amount of $10.40, the proceeds of their last baseball game.

In response to the letter of appeal for funds for the Recreation Field, Assemblyman Wilson announced that a total of $781 in contributions had been received. Assemblyman Wilson added that donations to the recreation fund are always gratefully received. Checks may be made payable to the Woodstock Recreation Committee.

Methodists Attend Monthly Prayer Service

Woodstock, Sept. 9—The Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society met for their monthly service of prayer, Thursday evening at the Wesleyan Methodist parsonage in Willow. The Rev. Gerald Matson brought devotional thought. Mrs. Jason Berry read a news letter from the Rev. and Mrs. Harris Earl, formerly of Chichester, now serving as missionaries in Columbia, South America.

Prayer time was followed by a fellowship circle and the Lord's Prayer.

Sunday evening, October 3, was chosen as the time for United Prayer to be observed at home.

The next public missionary service will be held October 7.

The Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society will meet September 16 at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Miss Helen Sickler of Lake Hill. Articles for the Onondaga Indians should be brought to this meeting when a box for that reservation will be packed.

The Rev. and Mrs. Marion Birch, return missionaries from Sierra Leon, West Africa, will speak at a Missionary Rally September 17 at 7:45 in the Wesleyan Methodist Church. The public is invited.

Home Bureau Meets

Woodstock, Sept. 9 — The Woodstock unit of the Home Bureau will hold its annual fall rally, Tuesday, Sept. 14, at 12:30, with luncheon being served in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church. In the absence of Miss Maude Shelton, chairman, who is ill, Mrs. Anna Kamen will preside.

Artists Elect New Executive Board

Woodstock, Sept. 9—At a general membership meeting of the Woodstock Artists Association held on September 2, the following five artists were elected to the executive board to replace outgoing members who had served their two-year terms: Eugene Ludins, Robert Angelock, Ben Johnson, Lynfield Ott, and Agnes Hart.

A meeting of the new board, together with outgoing members, was held at the Art Gallery on September 6 at which time the offices of the board were allocated as follows: Fletcher Martin, chairman; Eugene Ludins, vice chairman; Robert Angelock, secretary; Bruce Currie, treasurer; Sidney Laufman, extension; Agnes Hart, membership; Edward Chavez and Ben Johnson, exhibitions; Lynfield Ott, publicity; Howard Mandel, house committee.

Rolshoven Exhibit

Woodstock, Sept. 9—The late Julius Rolshoven, whose paintings were on exhibit in the lobby of the Kingston Theatre last winter, is represented in the 32 Annual Founders Exhibition now on view at the Grand Central Art Galleries, 15 Vanderbilt avenue, New York. The exhibition is open to the public through November 4. It consists of 108 contributed works of art by famous American painters and sculptors.

Leibhardt

Leibhardt, Sept. 9—Mrs. Herman Quick spent Saturday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry S. Quick and sons of Napanoch.

Mrs. Anna Kohan entertained friends from Clifton, N. J., last week.

Callers last week at the home of Mrs. Herman Quick included Mr. and Mrs. Archie Miller, their daughter and son from Otisville; Mr. and Mrs. Max Schriebeman and sons from Sullivan county. Other relatives also visited.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Markle made a business call to Kingston last Thursday and also called at relatives at Kelder's Hotel in Rosendale.

Woman Released Under Sentence

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Lucy Virginia Kies, 46-year-old mother of two children, who bungled an amateurish burglary attempt June 11 when she threw pepper into the face of a woman leaving a midtown bank, was released under a suspended sentence yesterday by General Sessions Judge John A. Mullen. Mrs. Kies lives at 151 Purchase street, Rye, N. Y.

Mrs. Kies, who had been allowed to plead to third degree assault, could have received a sentence of up to three years.

Mullen passed sentence after agreeing with the defense attorney that the act was that of a "desperate" woman seeking money for her family after her husband had left her. Mullen said he also took her good family background into consideration.

Mrs. Kies admitted throwing pepper in the face of a woman secretary as the latter left the midtown bank. Mrs. Kies grabbed two bankbooks, but was captured by a patrolman after a brief 5th avenue chase. She was later indicted on charges of robbery, grand larceny and second and third degree assault.

Banking Beggar

Detroit (AP) — Center Adams, 51, the man police call "Detroit's wealthiest beggar," has been sentenced to his 49th jail term. Police arrested him for begging and found $279 in cash in his pocket and a bank book with a $7,000 balance. "The guy had only $1,800 when I first saw him 20 years ago," said Mike Menoskey, a probation officer. Recorder's Judge John P. Scallen said: "$100 or 90 days." Said Adams: "That fine is too stiff for a poor man."

THE SCHOOL PROBLEM

By 1960, little more than five years from now, it is expected there will be some 8,000,000 more students in American schools than are currently attending. Somehow, provision must be made to house and teach this tremendous influx.

The problem is not a distant one, as everyone knows who has been watching school trends. For instance, this very fall there will be 1,692,000 more elementary pupils, 219,000 more high school and 89,000 more college students.

Dr. Samuel Brownell, U. S. Commissioner of Education, says the country will have to triple its present rate of school construction to keep pace with the need. And yet the building of schools in the past two years has been at the highest rate in the country's history.

As for teachers, right now there is a minimum need for 118,000 elementary school instructors to take care of mounting enrollment and to replace teachers leaving the field. Only about 45,000 qualified teacher graduates are apparently available, so the shortage will be 73,000.

As the great wave of new pupils moves up into high school and college years, the pressure for many more teachers will be felt more acutely in those brackets, too.

Congress addressed itself to this problem during the session just closed, and many lawmakers agitated for speedy action. But President Eisenhower and his key aides succeeded in blocking current enactment of aid-to-education legislation.

The President opposed action not because he believes the problem exaggerated, but because he wants it studied more thoroughly. Consequently, he has now launched perhaps the most comprehensive inquiry into American schools ever undertaken. He is seeking the best cure he can find for a dilemma that has become painfully chronic.

Mr. Eisenhower wants all the governors to call state conferences of citizens and educators to appraise the situation. Then he wishes to call a White House conference to pull findings and recommendations together and shape a program.

The big question, of course, is how much of the load can be managed by the states and cities. The President is an advocate of state and local self-help wherever it is feasible. But many lawmakers and others believe federal assistance is essential. If that is so, then the next question which must be settled is how this aid can be managed without getting into federal dictation over education.

Certainly the answers to these questions cannot be long delayed. Nor can governmental economy be used as an excuse for doing nothing. At stake is the effective preparation of millions of young Americans for life in a difficult, troubled world. No one needs to say how important that is.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

Government must have been much simpler in the days of the founding fathers. Sidney Hyman's new book, "The American President," records the story of a French officer who had business at the War Department. There he found the doors open, and two clerks writing. Asking for the Secretary, he was told that the Secretary had gone out for a shave. This was in 1796.

Nor was there much change by the time of the War of 1812. Those were the days when James Monroe, the future president, was at once Secretary of State, Secretary of War, military commander of the Washington district, and the officer in charge of the artillery on the heights outside the capital.

In those days taxes were low by present standards. They are never high enough to do all the things taxpayers want, but taxpayers always kick about their being too high anyhow.

A woman may concede that a man is smarter than she, but usually only for as long as it takes her to outsmart him.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

HOW NAIVE CAN ONE BE?

Charles P. Taft is president of the Committee for a National Trade Policy, Inc., which is an innocent enough name. All sorts of persons are interested in a National Trade Policy, from those who believe in a high tariff to those who favor free trade, and all stops in between. This Committee is more or less for free trade in the free world.

So Mr. Taft objects to an article I wrote some time back and notified one of my editors to that effect. The editor kindly sent me Taft's letter which contains, among other items of complaint, the following:

"In the full text of George Sokolsky's recent column headed 'Marginal Industries' he has repeated uncritically some of the current high tariff misrepresentations.

"But in one respect he added his own comment by referring to 'nasty' competition in Christmas toys 'from the atheistic countries behind the Iron Curtain.'

"While it is true that the Communist Party functionaries in those countries seek to submerge the Church, it is quite evident that the effort has not succeeded, as was so clearly demonstrated in the great Church gathering recently in East Germany. To label such strong supporters of the Church as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Rumania as 'atheistic' is completely at variance with the known facts. One of the most potent forces in the fight against Communism is Christianity, Catholic, Orthodox and Protestant, and to damn these unfortunate countries, forced behind the Iron Curtain by superior force and geographical location with the charge of being 'atheistic' is a distinct disservice to any reasoned attempt to draw these 'Iron Curtain' countries back into the Free World."

This letter was written in July of 1954 when the renewed anti-religion campaign of the Soviet Universal State was moving at full blast, a fact which has been duly reported in this country. "Pravda," official organ of the Communist Party, published an editorial which said:

"One of the most alive and harmful remnants of capitalism in the consciousness of the people are religious prejudices. These prejudices to this day poison the mind (sozaniye) and happiness of our people and hinder them in taking an active part in the construction of Communism. . . .

". . . Some Party, Komsomol, trade union, and other organizations, called upon to carry out educational work among the masses, for some reason understand for 'freedom of conscience' only the freedom of disseminating religious points of view, forgetting that it is their duty to educate the workers and to develop scientific-atheistic propaganda."

Further, the "Pravda" article says:

"The consistent implementation of measures which provide for a further rise in the cultural level of the workers, the extensive dissemination of natural scientific knowledge, the demonstration of the achievements of Soviet science, technology and culture—these are the ways for the formation of a scientific-atheistic world outlook of the Soviet people. Scientific-atheistic propaganda must be developed in such a manner as not to offend the believers, but to influence them by example, conviction, and the dissemination of scientific knowledge."

Charles P. Taft may be sentimentally attuned to the concept that scientific atheism has been invented by Soviet Russia's enemies. If that is so, he has avoided reading the literature of Marxism and the history of the struggle between Marxism and Christianity where these two forces co-exist in the same country. Perhaps he might find the time to study the history of the Bezbozniki, the Society of the Godless, which devoted itself to the destruction of God in Soviet Russia.

Perhaps he has never heard of Cardinal Mindszenty or of Archbishop Stepinac, or of the torture and martyrdom of Christian missionaries in China. He can find full documentation on these subjects. But let me quote "Pravda" a little more, because it tells the story better than I can:

"The Party, which is developing extensive work in the Communist education of the masses, cannot tolerate a neglected scientific-atheistic propaganda. It is the duty of Party organizations to eliminate as soon as possible shortcomings which exist in this sphere and to activate scientific-atheistic propaganda. In our Socialist society, all objective possibilities and prerequisites have been created for the complete overcoming of all remnants of capitalism in the consciousness of the people, including religious prejudices and superstitions. It is necessary to create a large-scale all-encompassing impetus to scientific-atheistic propaganda, and to improve its content decisively."

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

INFLAMMATION OF GALLBLADDER

When a patient has pain in the abdomen, especially toward the right side, and has also a slight yellow tinge of the skin, the physician is likely to suspect gallstones. While gallstones are a common disease, usually associated with pain through the entire abdomen, they may not always be painful enough though present.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. George F. O'Brien, Chairman Department of Medicine, Loyola University, states that "diseases of the gallbladder, together with those of the biliary tract, are responsible for a significant number of abdominal complaints."

The diagnosis of cholecystitis (inflammation of liver and gallbladder) does not depend entirely on the presence of gallstones. It has been estimated that 23.2 per cent of women and 16.2 per cent of men past the age of 40 years have gallstones; however only about one-third of these patients present any symptoms.

"The clinical picture of cholecystitis can be divided roughly into dyspeptic and painful symptoms. The dyspeptic symptoms occur in chronic cholecystitis and are related to the upset working of the stomach and intestines—slow emptying of the stomach, belching, nausea and vomiting, bloating soon after eating." These dyspeptic symptoms are aggravated by eating animal fats which show a deficiency in the amount of bile present.

The pain may be located anywhere in the upper abdomen; most common, first, in the right upper quarter, then in the stomach, and thirdly in the left upper quarter. The pain usually occurs in attacks lasting from 15 minutes to two or three hours. If the pain persists over several hours, the possibility of the development of empyema (pus formation) in the gallbladder must be considered.

Occasionally the pain from cholecystitis occurs over the heart region which may cause patient and physician to suspect a heart attack. Electrocardiograms taken during an attack of cholecystitis often reveal abnormalities which may further suggest the heart as a cause of the pain, so that very careful observation on the part of the physician is necessary. With acute attacks of cholecystitis, nausea and vomiting are early symptoms that occur persistently. The vomitus is usually light colored at first and then becomes bile-tinged. There is usually fever from 100 to 103 degrees.

Treatment of cholecystitis may be the use of bile salts in mild cases but surgery (removal of the gallbladder) may be found necessary in the more severe cases.

"Will There Be Enough to Go Around?"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—The new investigation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy begins as an investigation of the Wisconsin Commie-chaser's much discussed "methods." It will apparently have little or nothing to do with his "objectives," on which few people have quarreled anyway.

This distinction showed up repeatedly in the opening day's proceedings. Sen. Arthur V. Watkins—chairman of the new, six-man, bipartisan subcommittee and a former Utah district judge — consistently made rulings to this effect. He indicated he was interested only in determining whether Senator McCarthy had shown contempt of the Senate in his methods of operation.

Senator McCarthy was permitted to read a 10-minute opening statement in which he outlined his objectives in fighting the Communist conspiracy over the past four years. He had given this statement to the committee and to the press before the hearing opened. This enabled him to score the first news break of the hearings.

But Chairman Watkins made clear that most of the McCarthy statement was not material and not relevant to the hearings.

IN TWO OTHER instances Chairman Watkins indicated that his committee was interested only in the McCarthy methods.

The chairman refused to allow Senator McCarthy's counsel, Edward B. Williams—clean-cut, effective and well-prepared—to present a half-hour argument. It was on a usual trial-opening motion to dismiss the first charge against his client.

Senator Watkins said his committee had considered Counsel Williams' point previously, and did not agree with him.

Then, to end the first session, the chairman banged his gavel sharply to cut off Senator McCarthy's challenge of Sen. Ed Johnson's right to sit on the committee of six, because of previously expressed prejudice.

Since the committee couldn't accept Senator Johnson's resignation even if he wanted to quit, Senator Watkins asked, "Why clutter up the record?"

SUCH RULINGS by the chairman will unquestionably cause Senator McCarthy's followers to believe the investigation is unfair. But the setup of the hearings is such that Senator McCarthy will have ample opportunity to carry his case to the public over the airways, even though he does not have full freedom in the committee.

Television cameras, newsreels and photographers are barred from the committee room while testimony is being taken. The atmosphere here is calm, judicial, uncrowded. It is as different from the circus atmosphere of the Army-McCarthy hearings as anything could be.

But just outside the door, the broadcasters and picture men are set up with full equipment. Any time he wants to, Senator McCarthy can step outside and voice his opinion of what goes on inside. Presumably the investigating senators and their counsel won't try to argue their points of view so publicly.

Ex-Congressman Wallace J. Chadwick of Pennsylvania, the committee counsel, is entirely different from the more colorful but more bombastic Ray Jenkins of Mundt committee TV fame.

IT WAS EVIDENT at the start that Mr. Chadwick and his assistant, Guy de Furia, had done their homework. They moved right into their case as though they knew where they were going and handled their material well. They had copies of all statements and exhibits prepared in advance for distribution as introduced into the record.

Working with such efficiency, this could be a short hearing.

A clean decision by the Watkins committee that Senator McCarthy has or has not been guilty of using improper methods in furthering his cause could clear the air considerably.

Coming on top of the divided and conflicting Mundt committee majority, minority and individual clarifying and dissenting opinions from Senators Potter and Dirksen, a more unanimous finding would seem to be much in need. The Mundt committee reports settled nothing and left everything right where it had been with regard to Senator McCarthy himself.

It is of course up to the full Senate to vote on whether Senator McCarthy should be censured on the charges against his methods now being aired.

Whether an adverse report would change Senator McCarthy's methods is open to question. He will probably always be the same Joe. A Senate majority vote in his favor, however, would give him clearance to go full steam ahead in his familiar way.

Senators Feel Special Session on McCarthy Would Affect Them at the Polls

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 9 —If the entire United States Senate is to be brought back into special session before Election Day in November to vote on whether or not to adopt a resolution proposing to "censure" Senator McCarthy, the case will hardly be tried in the atmosphere of a judicial proceeding.

This is the question which is bothering a lot of senators, both Republican and Democrats, some of whom feel that, if the Senate has to act before the congressional election, a political issue will be made of it irrespective of the side on which senators are recorded.

Senator McCarthy himself is reported to be eager to have a vote taken as quickly as possible but, while he may be anxious to have the matter disposed of so that he can himself get into the campaign, the requirements of justice would seem to point to the necessity of waiting till after the campaign is over.

Not so long ago the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston, in a decision that was in some respects unprecedented, upset a conviction because the trial had been conducted in a climate of newspaper hysteria believed to be damaging to the defendant, and hence a new trial was ordered. It so happens that the jury voted the same way in the second trial, but it also is to be noted that in many appeals nowadays the issue is being raised as to whether a case has been tried in a fair climate.

So far as the Senate is concerned, it will sit, in effect, as a trial court when taking up the "censure" resolution. The Constitution says the Senate may "punish," and hence any punishment meted out requires that there shall prevail a judicial atmosphere in which the trial court shall not be influenced by passion or hysteria—and certainly a national political campaign has all those elements in it. The exact wording of the Constitution is as follows:

"Each House may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior, and with the concurrence of two-thirds expel a member."

Can "free speech" be construed in any way as "disorderly behavior"? Is a comment on the behavior of a witness to be construed as "disorderly behavior"? What are the facts, and what were the provocations, if any? It is necessary to gather evidence to try such a case involving precedents that can have a far-reaching effect on the future of Congress itself. The committee of six headed by Senator Watkins of Utah is engaged now in assembling the evidence on all sides. Senator Flanders evidently believes the committee isn't a "jury," because, though not a witness, he keeps on writing letters to the committee and makes them public.

Should the committee itself, therefore, make any recommendations or pronounce any verdict, or should it merely present the facts and the evidence and leave it to the Senate to decide? Certainly it is not an ordinary committee report that has to be made. For each member of the committee of six is in duty bound to preserve a judicial attitude not only upon the evidence but upon the argument that will inevitably be made on the floor of the Senate as the case is debated.

If the six senators take any position for or against when they file their report, they will have prejudiced the case and rendered a verdict without allowing due weight to be given to the summing up by those senators who favor or are against the censure resolution. The six senators on the committee would serve the ethics of a judicial proceeding much better if they merely reported to the Senate on all the facts as they found them and left the question of whether those facts do or do not deserve a censure vote to be answered when the final roll call is taken in the Senate itself. The committee of six has been hailed as a "model inquiry" and as employing a truly judicial approach.

To summon the entire Senate back for a special session requires the agreement of both Senator Knowland, Republican leader, and Senator Lyndon Johnson, the minority leader. There can be no special session called on any specific date if one or the other disagrees. Naturally the Democrats want the special session held before the election—or at least some Democrats who are not up for re-election this year may want it. But, entirely apart from the troublesome nature of the issue on which to record a vote during the political campaign, there is the undeniable fact that one-third of the Senate is up for re-election and must spend time on the stump. To require all senators to return to Washington and perhaps sit there a week or more waiting for a vote during a lengthy debate is to give a campaign advantage to the candidates who are running against the incumbents.

But the real justification for postponement—and it will be a hard decision for Senator Knowland to make—is that, when a man is on trial, he is deserving of a fair trial, and a fair trial has been widely interpreted by the courts as one devoid of influence exerted in any way on the jurors by the public through the newspapers, radio or television. Certainly the evidence will not disappear if the vote is postponed, and the issues will be just as clear after the congressional election as before. Any verdict, moreover, rendered after the election will not be subject to the cry that it was influenced, either for or against the Wisconsin senator, solely by considerations of politics.

Bird Lover

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP) — Rush hour traffic was tied up for several blocks because a baby bluejay was fluttering helplessly in the center of the street, two adult bluejays noisily hovering over it. Finally the driver of the big truck which had stopped in front of the jays got out and carried the young bird safely off the street. Then the long lines of cars began to move again.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 7—La Boca recently fomented controversy anew with a published remark that she has never asked for a government pension as widow of a President. Indeed, says she, "the question of a government pension has never been brought up."

I exert myself to maintain dignity in these pastorals so I will answer with restraint that (a) she is up to her old trick of denying something that nobody has charged and (b) she ain't telling the truth.

It may be a fact that she never asked for a pension, but underlying that fact is the fact that Presidents' widows never do ask. This is not the way it is done, as she well knows. It is done by act of Congress, by means of a bill introduced by a sympathetic individual member. To be sure, the widow may intimate to some member of her late husband's party that she could use the $5,000 which is the traditional dole begun in 1882 in the case of Julia G. Tyler, widow of John. Not all of them since then have received the grant, but all 19 of the relicts listed on the rolls, beginning with Martha Washington, got something. Mrs. Washington got the franking privilege for her letters, which conceivably were less numerous than Eleanor's considering her seemliness.

Dolly Madison got the frank and $30,000 for some manuscripts that Jimmy had left lying around. Louise, widow of John Q. Adams, got only the frank and Anna Harrison got the frank and $25,000 minus the pay he had drawn as president. Mary Lincoln hit the jack-pot with the frank, $5,000 a year and $25,000 minus any money paid her as her husband's salary after Abe's death.

There is no explanation in my data of the reference to salary paid after Lincoln died but, at a guess, the paymaster sent a few pay checks to tide her over. Today, the normal procedure of the government is to seal the safe deposit box so that the widow has to go to the loan shark if they didn't hide something in the cookie jar, set a watch around the place lest the bereft steal out with her old man's golf tools or a couple of his beat-up old suits to hock them, and then call her a dirty chiseling liar whatever she says in answer to their questions. However, that doesn't apply to the widows of presidents but only to tax-producing members of the lower orders.

So, conceding that Dreamie never did ask for a pension, any implication of extraordinary propriety is overcome by the fact that we never put the girls to that necessity.

Now, as to subject (B) above, "the question of a government pension" certainly has been "brought up," as she certainly knows dam well. It was "brought up" by Congressman Lesinski of Dearborn, Michigan, a New Dealer of exaggerated mien in a bill introduced on June 5, 1945, soon after My Leader's demise. The amount proposed was $5,000 a year, the bill was HR3389, 79th Congress, it went to the Committee on Invalid Pensions and, on Dec. 12, same year, it was reported out favorably, with the observation that at that time five widows of presidents were drawing the same annuity, including Edith Bolling Wilson, who was popularly regarded as a rich woman when she married Woodrow but may have come on evil days in later years.

But after the committee brought in the favorable report, Congressman Rich, of Pennsylvania, on Feb. 5, 1946, hove up on the floor and said La Boca was drawing pay at the rate of $12,000 a year from the United Nations as delegate to the Assembly so back the bill went to committee where it croaked.

As usual in the financial affairs of this family, great mystery was made of the actual facts. Although her pay from UN was at the rate of $12,000, that term misled many of us into the reasonable but slightly embarrssing assumption that she was getting 12 gee. The fact was, however, that she was drawing per diem pay at that rate plus expenses which also were hidden in reticence and may have been $25 a day or only $10. And a single telephone call could have constituted a day's work, although we have no reliable knowledge as to what she did except continue to practice irritation.

I know I ran up considerable mileage in Washington trying to determine how much she was drawing and never used up so much energy for so little yield because they all seemed determined to guard the secret. Finally, back in New York, at the United Nations, the fact was run down that, in 1948 she drew about $4,000.

But I don't think Dreamie ought to fault people so hard for suspecting her of grabbing as much as she can in view of the general record of Jimmy, Elliott and Anna and of her own successful avidity when my leader ruled our lucky land. She never did tell us how much she gave the Red Cross to pay for our precious gasoline used in the bomber that flew her all over the South Pacific on that broken-wing ruse which finally landed her on an island with Pal Joey Lash and for the salaries of the crew, including a press agent with the rank of major.

And, again, she never did come clean about that coffee broadcast arranged by Betty Lindley, the wife of a Washington columnist, which paid her $1,000 a week. Nor about that aquamarine dornick which the late President Vargas of Brazil sent her and which Barney Baruch took around the New York marts a few years later, ostensibly for appraisal but not for sale. Just why they wanted to know what this gift was worth if she wasn't thinking of dough, as she often did, I never quite understood.

One-Room School Houses

The United States still has about 45,000 one-room school houses, but the number is shrinking at the rate of 10 a day, says the National Geographic Society.

Questions -- Answers

Q—How are new comets discovered?

A—The job of hunting new comets is now performed by patrol cameras which automatically sweep the sky every night from the large observatories.

Q—Are occupants in the galleries of the House of Representatives ever officially recognized from the floor?

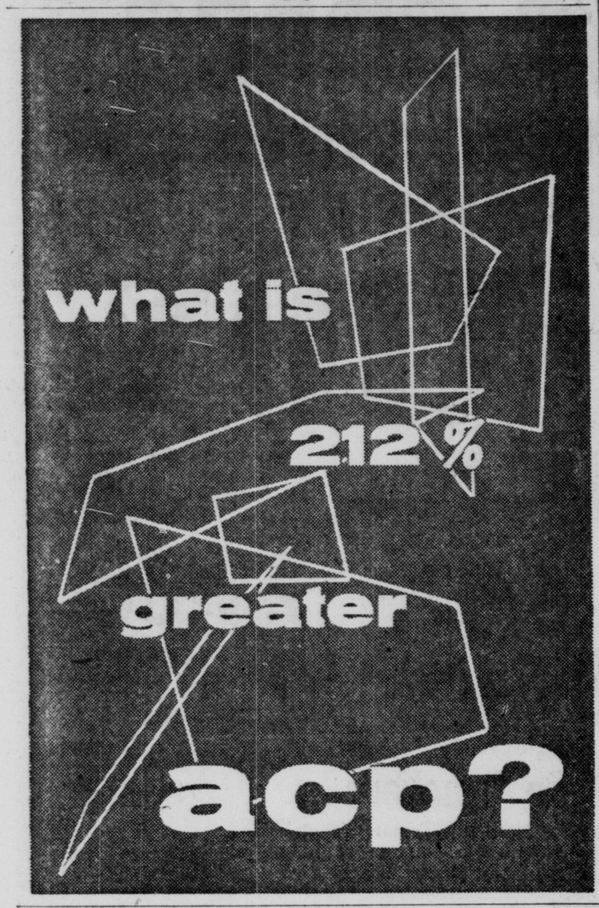

A—No, a House rule, adopted in 1933, prohibits any member from bringing to the attention of the House during its session any occupant in the galleries of the House.

Senior Citizens Home

Kalamazoo, Mich. (AP) — An elder folks' housing project which may help to solve the U. S. problem of homes for the aged is going up here. A start has been made on the first unit of the $380,000 "Senior Citizens of Kalamazoo" project. The unit is expected to be completed by next year. Sponsors say the project may serve as a model for other communities which have a problem in housing elderly persons. The Senior Citizens Fund is behind the Kalamazoo venture. The fund was set up eight years ago by the city commission. The fund has been built from bequests and other contributions.

Flying Cop

New York (AP)—Lt. Col. Gerald Crosson came home recently after flying 105 helicopter missions in Korea to become a sergeant—but that was the way he wanted it. Crosson, who holds the air medal with two clusters and a special citation, went back to his old job of flying a "whirlybird" for the local police department's aviation division.

General Motors To Show Film

A dramatic film which depicts in sound and color the need for more and better highways and increased parking facilities will be shown to members and guests of the General Motors Club of the Poughkeepsie-Kingston area at the Governor Clinton Hotel, on Wednesday, September 15.

Entitled "Give Yourself the Green Light," the film portrays the nationwide problem of inadequate highways, shows what some communities have done to solve the problem and urges public support of a continuing highway improvement program.

"THIS FILM," says W. J. McCurdy, General Motors Club chairman, "proves that the task of providing adequate highways and parking facilities for a nation on wheels is not beyond the reach of Americans aroused to action."

As a special feature the "Give Yourself the Green Light" film will be introduced from the screen by GM Vice President Paul Garrett. Harlow H. Curtice, GM President, will conclude the program with some timely filmed remarks on the highway problem.

MEMBERSHIP OF the local GM Club consists of GM Dealers in this area and field executives of various General Motors divisions. Among the guests of the Club at this meeting will be Mayor Frederick H. Stang; Supt. of Public Works, Ernest A. Steuding; President of Common Council, Joseph Kelly; Chairman Planning Board, Lawrence MacAvery; President Chamber of Commerce, N. Jansen Fowler; Freeman City Editor, Richard Gruver; Supt. of Highways, Roland N. Green; Mayor Robert E. Stevens; City Manager, Hayden B. Johnson; City Judge, Bernard J. McCoy; Supt. of Streets, Fred J. Healy; City Planning Board Chairman, Peter H. Troy; Supt. of Highways, Charles N. O'Brien and others interested in highway improvement.

Forgotten Shopper

McAlester, Okla. (AP) — It's hard to remember to get everything at the grocery store. Mrs. Albert Norman had that problem recently. After placing the groceries she had purchased into her car she dashed back into the store explaining, "I knew I'd forgotten something." The one item forgotten was little William Albert. He was contentedly gurgling away in the upper berth of a shopping basket.

The Mature Parent

Boasting That We 'Slave' For Children Is Hazardous

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Bess and Irene, both 15, live six blocks apart. But this morning, invitations to a mutual friend's party faced them with the same problem.

Each, for the occasion, wanted a new skirt. Each knew that money to buy it would be denied by her mother.

What Bess did first was to think. Then, humming a little tune to herself, she ran up to her room. There, from her closet she took the last summer's pink pique dress that had grown too short-waisted.

With scissors, she began to snip at its belt stitches. She took care not to snip cloth because she knew that she'd need the belt to make the new skirt from the old dress.

Irene thought, too. Then what she did was to wander into her mother's bedroom. From the purse on the table, she removed a department store charge plate.

Telling her mother she had books to return to the library, she took a bus downtown, chose a new skirt and charged it to her mother's account.

Why couldn't she, like Bess, find a solution in herself?

Well, a couple of days ago, she got a fruit stain on a blouse. She was told, "Give it to me. You'll ruin it." If she ever tries to rearrange her room, she's told, "Put your bureau back. Don't you know that damp will warp its drawers near the window?"

Individual ideas just die still-born in Irene. Her long experience with vetoes has turned her into a dependent child.

Yet, when the store sends the bill for her skirt at this month's end, her mother will cry. She will call Irene dishonest and say, "What have I done to deserve this?"

Such scenes are frequent between Irene and her mother. For Irene, trained to look for all her solutions in her mother, has now learned to force them from her.

If she overspends her weekly allowance, she expects the same contempt for her need of more money as for her opinion on the rearrangement of her room. So she is unable to present her need for it as respectable. Needing it, she just takes it from her mother's purse.

Her dependence is the key to her dishonesty. Thieves are thieves because they have no solutions in themselvs.

Like Irene, they use their gifts of ingenuity, perseverance and alertness to wring their solutions from other people. Often, they have been children who have suffered consistent discouragement of their own resourcefulness.

Parents who boast of how they "slave" for children should consider the hazards of the dependence they are teaching.

New Program Starts

The area Chapter of the Society for Advancement of Management will hold its first meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 14, at 6:15 p. m., in the Hendrick Hudson Hotel in Troy. The speaker will be J. Stanley Purnell, director of organization development, Gulf Oil Corporation, whose subject will be A Formalized Management Development Program. A graduate of Princeton University, Purnell has been affiliated with the Gulf Oil Corporation since 1933 when he started as a sales trainee. Members and guests who cannot attend the dinner are invited to attend the business meeting at 8 p. m.

Stone Ridge Clinic

A child health conference conducted by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the health center in Stone Ridge on September 15 from 9 to 11 a. m. These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of administering immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. These are well child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Transportation will be provided for those people who have no other means of getting to the clinic by calling High Falls 4743.

She's for Them

Lansing, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Julia M. Emery says this about women in politics: They can't be pushed around politically, they don't make long-winded speeches when they have nothing to say, and they're generally brighter than men and they pay more attention to business. Mrs. Emery, 74, a member of the Connecticut legislature, is founder of the National Order of Women Legislators. She has spent 30 years in politics.

Port Ewen Group To Visit Albany On Consolidation

A hearing designed to study the ability of Port Ewen to build a new consolidated school will be held at the State Education Department in Albany Sept. 13 and 14, it was announced today.

Members of the Town of Esopus School Improvement Association are planning to attend the hearing and will report back with results at an open meeting in the near future.

THE ALBANY HEARING, it was pointed out today, culminates 18 months of intensive study by the association in determining the educational needs of the children of Port Ewen.

Districts 1, 13 and 15 of Port Ewen and District 12, New Salem, have expressed through a survey a definite desire to consolidate and form one single district.

The group, headed by John Spinnenweber, chairman, will include the following:

District 1, Mrs. William J. Anderson, Louis Goldberg, Roland Myers, Thomas Bohan. District 12, New Salem, Robert Graves; District 13, Mrs. Donald Swan, Oakley Maynard, Cleon Robinson and from District 15, Vernon Frost.

Weekly Food Review

By The Associated Press

Various cuts of pork will be among the most popular features in the nation's food stores this weekend.

And since pork — along with beef — rose sharply in price on the wholesale markets this week, it might be a good idea to buy it now. Meat specialists say that next week prices will be raised to bring them in line with wholesale quotations.

Prominent among the specials will be pork loins, with reductions of as much as 10 cents a pound; fresh and smoked hams, about four cents below last week's prices; fresh pork butts and pork chops. Despite this week's rise at wholesale, one chain is trimming pork chop prices by from four to 10 cents a pound.

LEGS OF LAMB will be another favorite. Meat experts also stress that turkeys of all sizes remain good buys. Chicken prices are considered quiet reasonable and various stores will feature fryers and stewing chickens. Some markets will cut the price of legs or rumps of veal by four cents a pound.

Prime ribs of beef will be featured here and there. Generally, beef and steak prices will be the same or a little higher than a week ago. A buyer for one chain says wholesale prices of beef are the highest so far this year.

THIS IS THE TIME of year to eat lots of vegetables. Produce men again have a lengthy list of worthwhile buys: Beans, corn, squash, eggplant, peppers, onions, potatoes, cauliflower, sweet potatoes, cucumbers and tomatoes. Most of these are grown locally and the season is near its peak.

Produce men also note that more locally-grown Brussels sprouts are coming to market. Among the few vegetables that are up in price this week is iceberg lettuce.

Peaches, plums and prunes and grapes head the list of good fruit buys. It's pointed out that the selection of melons is unusually broad: You can buy cantaloupes, honeydews, casaba melons, Persian melons or crenshaw melons at moderate prices.

MOST CITRUS. fruits are higher in price this week. Pears also are up.

The Department of Agriculture picks pears, peanut butter and honey as this week's "food headliners." It observes that peanuts are rich in things that are good for you. They are exceptionally high in niacin and are important for other B vitamins as well. Among vegetable foods, peanuts rate high in quantity of protein.

THE DECLINE in coffee prices that started in mid-August continued this week. In the latest development, two of the nation's leading coffee roasters reduced wholesale prices by five cents a pound. They cut prices 10 cents a pound earlier.

By this time, coffee can be had at below $1 a pound in many sections of the country. However, an upturn in green coffee prices could reverse the downtrend at any time.

Marooned Cat

Peru, Ill. (AP) — Wandering Ratzy, a pure white cat owned by Mrs. William Janz, is back home after five nights out with a reasonable reason. Ratzy was let out on a hot night and failed to wake up the family with its usual meows the following morning. A town-search failed to locate the cat. A passerby noticed a white cat on a roof a block away from Ratzy's home. It was Ratzy. The cat had climbed a pole about two feet from a building, jumped onto the roof but had been unable to make it back the same way.

Highway Expansion

Tokyo (AP) — Japan plans to build a super highway between Tokyo and Kobe in western Japan, financing the project through toll charges. This was disclosed by the Construction Ministry, which said 5,700 miles of highways will be built under a five-year plan financed by a gasoline tax. The ministry said only 20 per cent of Japan's roads were suitable for vehicular traffic.

Michigan Guard Patrols Effective

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 9 (AP)—Michigan spent about $30,000 to call out the National Guard to help in Labor Day traffic patrols and thereby saved 10 to 15 lives, Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today.

For the first time in the state's history, the governor declared a state of traffic emergency over the holiday weekend, and 668 guardsmen were ordered to duty.

The use of guardsmen for this purpose followed the example of Tennessee, where the device has been in use over holidays for some years. Wisconsin also experimented with the device this year.

The Michigan guardsmen's services permitted the full complement of state police and sheriffs' deputies to hold the death toll to 21 over the holiday. This compared to 35 over the Fourth of July weekend this year and 31 over Labor Day, 1953.

WILLIAMS SAID the experiment was a success. This was demonstrated, he said, by the fact that only five persons died on state trunklines, where the augmented patrols were concentrated. Over Labor Day, 1953, 21 died on the trunklines.

The governor added that traffic was apparently as heavy over the weekend as a year ago, but that "the facility of travel was better because of the point control by National Guardsmen directing the flow of traffic at congested points."

Will Hold Conference

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today he is calling in all of the 94 federal district attorneys in the United States and its possessions for a three-day conference, Oct. 13-15. The sessions in Washington, the attorney general said, are designed to effect better coordination in all phases of the Justice Department's work. "This is one means of insuring that our policies, enforcement and legal interpretations are uniform throughout the nation," Brownell said in a statement.

Two Look to U. S.

London, Sept. 9 (AP)—Britain and West Europe looked to the United States for the lead today on new moves to rearm West Germany following the British cabinet's decision not to convene a nine-power conference on the problem here next Tuesday. With West Germany objecting to a meeting so soon and neither the French nor Americans enthusiastic, the cabinet agreed yesterday to hold up its plans for a conference to seek an alternative to the French-rejected European Defense Community.

Would Organize Council

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—A local of the CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. (MEBA) has made a move aimed at organizing a port-wide council to present a united front to maritime employers. Local 33 of the MEBA gave $20,000 yesterday to the International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA), which has been independent since it was outsted from the AFL last fall for failure to cleanse itself of racketeering.

Bids to Be Open For Restaurants

Bids will be opened in Albany Sept. 30 at 2 p. m., for construction of two Class A type gas stations and restaurants in Ulster county along the New York State Thruway, it was learned today.

One restaurant is to be built at Ruby and the other at Malden, and the bids will be on general construction, heating, ventilation, plumbing, air conditioning, elevators and refrigeration.

PLANS MAY BE obtained from the state public works department's office, state office building, Albany, or from the office of district engineer J. S. Bixby in Poughkeepsie.

Meanwhile, work has been progressing in the area of the Route 28 interchange and forms are being prepared for the pouring of concrete on the road over the Route 28 viaduct. Final grading is also being done on the section between the Route 28 interchange and the Hurley avenue bridge. Paving has been in progress between Hurley avenue and Whiteport and from there to Newburgh for some time.

J. F. Cleary Dies

Port Jervis, Sept. 9 (AP)—John F. Cleary, who was municipal clerk here for 45 years, died last night in St. Francis Hospital after a long illness. He was 74. Cleary, who retired in 1947, was born in Graham, N. Y. Active in local affairs, he was director of the First National Bank of Port Jervis, the Port Jervis Savings and Loan Assn., Number 1, and secretary of the Port Jervis Hotel Corp., which operates the Hotel Minnisink.

Atomic Chiefs Meet

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—Top-level U. S. and Canadian Atomic Energy officials meet here today to seek ways of tightening their cooperation under relaxed rules on atomic secrecy laid down by Congress. The talks are being held by Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, and William J. Bennett, president of Canada's Atomic Energy Agency.

Senator Ives . . .

horn-rimmed spectacles and held his pipe as he spoke.

"As you know," he said, "I have been greatly distressed by Gov. Dewey's decision not to run again. I have been doing my utmost in trying to persuade him to reconsider.

"My efforts to this end have met with failure. I, too, am obliged to accept his decision as final."

Ives' announcement appeared to clear the decks for the party's campaign to retain the office that Dewey has held for 12 years.

THE DEMOCRATS still were in a flurry following Dewey's announcement Tuesday night that he would not be a candidate for office this fall under any circumstances.

While some party leaders were throwing their support to Harriman, CIO officials and some county and district leaders promised they would go to the convention floor in favor of Roosevelt.

That raised the possibility, that, should a deadlock develop, the name of Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York might once more be projected into the Democratic picture although he has said time and again he is not a candidate for nomination as governor.

Ives told newsmen he would not resign as senator to campaign for governor.

HE ADDED THAT it was "not necessary."

If elected governor, he would appoint his successor as senator.

"What do you think of your chances of beating Harriman?" a reporter asked.

"I have never been fearful of any opponent," said Ives, who never lost an election in a 25-year political career starting in the state Legislature. "Let's see whom they nominate."

He said he would support the Eisenhower administration's record in the race.

Asked what made him "change his mind" about running, Ives said:

"I didn't change my mind at all, in one sense. I didn't want to run . . . practically the only reason I didn't want to run is because I wanted the governor to run. Presently I am very happily situated in Washington."

Mrs. Isabella Is Injured in Crash Near Glenerie

Margaret Isabella, 41, of 45 Washington avenue, Saugerties, sustained lacerations of the scalp and other injuries last evening at Glenerie Falls when a car operated by her husband, Arthur Isabella, 45, and a Ford truck operated by Joseph Edward Kanfoush, 28, of 27 Evalon Road, New Hartford, collided.

Mrs. Isabella was taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment and X-rays today. Two small children in the Isabella car escaped serious injury, state police reported.

Joseph Edward Kanfoush was operating his truck south on the the center lane of Route 9W at about 45 miles an hour passing another vehicle, state police reported, when the Isabella car traveling north started to pass another vehicle traveling north. As the front end came out to the center lane the two vehicles collided, troopers reported. The Isabella Buick car was badly damaged.

Troopers Rippa, Shurter and Ryan of the Kingston station investigated. There was no arrest.

Search Abandoned

Dover, England, Sept. 9 (AP)—The air sea search for Ted May, 44-year-old steel worker who vanished on his second attempt to swim the English Channel unescorted, was abandoned today. As the day wore on, hope for the 238-pound father of nine children faded. The Dover lifeboat was called back to its base at 10 a. m. and orders were sent out to Royal Air Force planes and launches to return to their stations. The burly swimmer entered the water at Cap Gris Nez at 4:45 a. m. Wednesday, towing an inner tube equipped with canvas top, brandy, sandwiches and signal lights. He had hoped to reach the English coast by 7:30 last night.

ILA Is Chosen At Port Jervis

Port Jervis, Sept. 9 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.), which has begun a campaign to sign up members of other crafts, has won a representation election among employes of the Crescent Silverware Manufacturing Co. here.

Results announced by the National Labor Relations Board following the vote late yesterday showed 55 ballots for the ILA and 34 for the AFL Jewelry Workers Union.

THE COMPANY employes, who have been on strike since Aug. 2, heretofore were not represented by any union.

The strike stemmed from discharge of two employes. The ILA, which at the time was seeking to organize company workers, claimed the company fired the men because of union activity. The company said lack of work was responsible.

OTHER WORKERS were then called out and the union demanded unspecified higher wages and other benefits, saying pay ranged between $1 and $1.50 an hour and that this was far below other comparable industries.

After the vote yesterday, the union offered to send members back to their jobs provided the company would make any new contract benefits retroactive to the start of work.

The company made no comment on the offer or the results of the election.

Says Two Arrested

Berlin, Sept. 9 (AP) — American authorities said today two American tourists missing since Tuesday are believed to have been arrested by Russian zone police on the 110-mile autobahn to West Germany. A U. S. spokesman said Harry Starr and his brother, James, were last seen here Tuesday. An eyewitness later reported he saw Communist police arrest a man who was driving a German Mercedes car on the superhighway. A check showed the car had been rented by James from a German firm in West Berlin. American officials said they were investigating. Home addresses of the two men were not available.

Regular services will be held at the Reformed Church Sunday with Donald Ely in charge. The Dutch Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Alfred Stokes, Jr., on Monday evening, Sept. 13 at 8 p. m.

Upstairs Expansion

Waterbury, Conn. (AP)—John W. Nolan petitioned the city board of aldermen to waive the building code to allow him to convert a second floor porch into a bedroom. He needed the extra room, he explained, for his recently born twins. The petition was granted.

Man Is Killed By Gas Blast

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—An open gas oven jet set off an explosion yesterday which killed a 50-year-old man and ripped through a 64-family apartment house in the Washington Heights section.

The blast, heard more than a mile away, was in the fourth floor apartment of Joseph Kassick, who had come home from his candy store for a midday snack.

Sixteen of the apartments in the six-story building at 190th St. and Audubon avenue were damaged. Scores of windows were blown out and the sidewalk was littered with glass, plaster, and household effects.

Kassick died en route to a hospital. Four neighbors were treated for shock, but no other injuries were reported.

Police said the explosion apparently was accidental, that a single gas jet in the stove was open and became ignited by the pilot light.

Tillson

Tillson, Sept. 8—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Tillson Reformed Church will be held Thursday evening, September 9, at 8 o'clock in the church hall. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Floyd Craig and Mrs. Hollis E. Harvey. All members are urged to attend. Details of the concert to be given on the new church organ, which was dedicated at the regular Sunday morning services on September 5, will be discussed.

A very successful bazaar was held Saturday and Sunday by St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, on the church grounds.

Dewey Tells Fair Crowd Farms on Sound Basis Again

Syracuse, Sept. 9 (AP)—Gov. Dewey, out of the gubernatorial race but still stumping for his party, says the Republican leadership in Washington has returned agriculture to "a sound basis."

Dewey, in his annual speech at the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce farm dinner last night, praised the national GOP administration and the 83rd Congress for adopting a new farm program.

"It took a lot of courage for the Congress to face up honestly to a tough situation," he said. "I think Americans admire that kind of courage and will reward it."

The governor, following his custom, was to tour the state fair grounds today and make another speech.

REFERRING TO his farm dinner address as his "swan song" appearance, Dewey told an audience composed largely of dairymen that farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity "looked good—on paper."

But, he went on to say that high, fixed supports created surpluses and added:

"It is always dangerous to have government-fostered surpluses hanging over the market, depressing prices below the cost of production.

HIS REMARKS in favor of the Eisenhower administration farm policies obviously were intended to counter Democratic claims that the Dewey administration had let the farmer down. The Democrats say Dewey should have influenced the national GOP leadership to retain high price supports.

Agriculture Secretary Benson last April 1 reduced supports on dairy products from 90 to 75 per cent of parity. The administration won a fight against congressmen who wanted to raise them again.

Dewey's farm dinner speech came on the state fair's Dairy Day, highlighting the 108th exposition's theme—A Salute to the Dairy Industry.

MILK DID a thriving business at the fair, and patrons overflowed the dairy building to inspect exhibits depicting every phase of the industry from the cow to the consumer.

Earlier yesterday, the governor broke ground for a new four-million-dollar, eight-story state office building in the heart of Syracuse.

He said the new building exemplified his administration's policy of bringing government closer to the people. "If you have business to do with the state," Dewey said, "you should be able to do it all in one place."

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

It is lamentable and pathetic that the major part of America's great and loudly acclaimed advertising — plus salesmanship, which can sell deep freezers to Eskimos and long underwear to the African natives — has done so little respecting selling Americanism to our own people and to the people of other countries.

Mr. Hutton

While the tops in advertising have been concentrating on the latest gadgets, appliances, etc., the Kremlin has advertised to all nations that the Americans are decadent, warmongering — wanting war for profits and not peace for less profits; and fraught with evil.

The Moscow boys have sold Communism better than we have sold Americanism. What about Asia? The Kremlin thugs have sold their bill of goods — ours remain unsold.

The Indo-Chinese crisis didn't happen over night. We had years to sell ourselves and do the same ideological job as the Kremlin did — but we didn't. We tried to buy support just as we have done in Europe.

Now we realize that a lot of nations would prefer looking a gift horse in the face.

"Who's fooling who?"

Now, let's get down to brass knuckles and put real zeal into selling America as we do the latest chrome plated kitchen gadgets. Let's beat the Commies to the punch.

How, neighbor?

Birthday Secret

Durban, South Africa (AP)—Charles Francis Fleming apparently believes a man is only as old as he feels. He went around telling people he was only 96. The truth came out when he had an accident and was hospitalized. His daughter, who knew it all along, registered him as 100. It turned out that Fleming didn't mind. There was a small birthday celebration and he confessed "it's quite nice being 100 you know."

Learning Young

Bardstown, Ky. (AP) — Talbott Tavern features novel salt shakers—so novel that a little boy with a family of tourists stuck one in his pocket. The father didn't discover the boy had the shaker until he had driven 110 miles from Bardstown. But he turned right around and came back. "I wanted to make an example of it," he told the tavern manager, "so he'll learn never to take something that doesn't belong to him."

Father Comyns Graduation Speaker For Nursing Class

The Very Rev. Joseph J. Comyns, JCD, CSsR, said that the work of nurses fulfills literally the words on the Statue of Liberty, Send them, the homeless, the tempest tossed to me. He praised the truly American meaning of the profession to the graduating class of 1954 of Our Lady of Victory School of Nursing of Benedictine Hospital, at commencement exercises held Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's Church.

Father Comyns cited the truly Christian work of the nurse, in helping and befriending strangers who are ill and in need of assistance. He reminded the fifteen graduates that there may be times when they will be confronted with cases exhausting their strength, but that they must remember they need more than a mere determination to see them through.

The diplomas were presented to the class by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PR, VF. Father Drury also awarded the Sister Aloysia Scholarship of $300 to Miss Katherine Mary A. Maurer, who attained an average of 90.7 per cent. This scholarship is given by members of Nurses Alumnae Association and Ladies' Auxiliary. Then next highest in the class was Miss Carol Mary Kelsch, with an average of 90.2 per cent.

Miss Patricia Keefe was soloist during the exercises, and Theodore Riccobono played selections on the organ.

Easy Hurdle

Des Moines (AP)—Don Hughes let his driver's license lapse and he had to take the written examination again. But he didn't find it very tough. The test he was given was one he had written when he was director of the state drivers' license division a few years ago.

Connecticut claims it has more acres of public parks and spends more money for public libraries than any other U. S. state.

Democrats Begin

in Republican foreign policy than a boarding house chicken."

Pennsylvania's two senators are Edward Martin and James H. Duff.

Appealing to fellow Democrats to stick to "issues" this fall, he declared:

"We face the obligation to lift this campaign a considerable notch above the level of slander and ugly, bitter name-calling to which our political dialogue has sunk in recent months."

The job of the Democrats, he added, is to bring forth the real issues in this campaign from behind the slogans and the catchwords in which they are camouflaged."

Country must be placed above party, Stevenson said, and "decency above ambition" during the weeks of the campaign.

"If it is the Republicans' choice to generate heat, it is still our duty to shed light," he said.

Stevenson noted that there are "almost 400,000 Pennsylvanians out of work this week" and that Republican "pep talk about prosperity isn't going to mean very much to the rail workers from Altoona, the miners from Wilkes-Barre, the steelworkers from Pittsburgh and the textile workers from Philadelphia."

The answer to unemployment, he said, is to create a "state of mind which is geared to a concept of uninterrupted progress" and to creating new markets, new jobs and new wealth.

Neighborly Short-Circuit

Los Angeles (AP)—A Wilshire District resident has found a way to silence his neighbor's TV set whenever he wishes. The idea came to him during a recent hot spell when he was unable to sleep because of the blare of commercials from the set next door. He stuck a metal fish pole out his third story window and leaned it against the antenna on the neighbor's roof. It did a beautiful job of shorting reception. He resorts to the fish pole now as often as necessary, removing it in the morning. The neighbor and a TV repairman, he reports, are slowly going nuts.

More Lumber

Tokyo (AP)—Peiping radio says North Korea has stepped up lumber production to beyond prewar level with the help of Soviet technicians and Russian and Czech equipment. It gives no figures, but the lumber industry was an important one in North Korea before the war.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Expert Knows When To Draw Trumps

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"This is terrible," said the angry kibitzer, walking away from the table. "That fellow doesn't even know enough to draw trumps and he calls himself a bridge expert."

The man who provoked the kibitzer was A. Mitchell Barnes, who is indeed an expert. He was playing the hand shown today, and it was actually a case of knowing enough not to draw the trumps.

West opened the jack of clubs, and Barnes immediately took dummy's three top cards in the black suits in order to reduce his hand to its ten red cards. His next step was to lead a diamond to the ace. Then he entered dummy by leading a low trump to the king, but instead of continuing with the trumps he led a second diamond from the dummy.

East ruffed the second round of diamonds with a small trump and it was at this point that the kibitzer left the table muttering to himself.

Actually, declarer hadn't lost a thing by allowing East to ruff the second round of diamonds. He was able to play a low diamond from his own hand on this trick, and he was not a bit concerned, since he had always expected to lose one diamond trick.

After ruffing the second round of diamonds, East led the queen of spades, forcing South to ruff. Declarer led a trump to dummy's queen, exhausting the remaining trumps, safely led a third round of diamonds to the king and ruffed a fourth round of diamonds in the dummy. The South hand was now good for the rest of the tricks.

It's easy to see that South would have lost his slam contract if he had drawn three rounds of trumps before tackling the diamonds. If South makes this mistake, he is bound to lose two diamond tricks sooner or later. This is, of course, one trick more than he can afford to lose at a slam contract.

25 Escape Harm As Plane Flips

Philadelphia, Sept. 9 (AP)—Twenty-two passengers and three crew members escaped injury late yesterday when a twin engine Trans - World - Airlines plane nosed over while attempting a landing at International Airport.

The plane, bound from New York to Columbus, Ohio, clipped a six-foot steel fence at the edge of the runway while making its approach. The nose wheel of the plane buckled when the plane touched the runway and the plane nosed along the runway and the soft turf for about 250 feet.

When the plane came to rest, Capt. A. V. Stahl, 39, co-pilot Roy Ward, 25, and stewardess Dolores Martin, 24, also of New York evacuated the passengers through the door in the pilot's compartment.

Ten-year-old Nicholas Ruffin of Pittsburgh, one of the passengers, said later:

"It was just like in the movies and on television. The only thing I'm mad about is that I lost a model airplane my daddy bought me in New York after we got out of the plane."

Ava Was Nervous, Her Agent Says

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Sept. 9 (AP)—Ava Gardner, on a South American goodwill tour, recuperated from what her press agent called a "nervous crisis" today in the Copacabana Palace, her second hotel in three days in Rio de Janeiro.

The management of the swank Gloria Hotel asked the dark-haired Hollywood star to leave yesterday, charging she threw things and shouted in her room.

Miss Gardner's press secretary, David Hanna, denied the charges of boisterousness. His story: She suffered an attack of nerves after 700 unruly fans mobbed her when she arrived at the airport Tuesday.

The Gloria's management said the property damage was slight.

Miss Gardner, touring South America to publicize her new picture, "The Barefoot Contessa (Countess)", canceled a news conference and cocktail party after the incidents.

There was talk she might also curtail her stay in Brazil.

Red Graduations

Tokyo (AP)—Diploma time has arrived in Communist China and Peiping radio says a "record number" of 40,300 students have been graduated from institutions of higher learning. Included are 15,000 engineers.

August Travel Over Bridges Is Greater in 1954

August travel over the three Hudson river bridges under control of the New York State Bridge Authority was 5.36 per cent above that of a year ago, and an all-time record was set for the Labor Day weekend, the authority reported today.

The August total this year was 903,966 as compared to 858,014 in 1953, an increase of 45,952 vehicles.

THE MID-HUDSON bridge clocked 405,704 vehicles against 387,762, an increase of 17,942, or 4.63 per cent. The Bear Mountain bridge with 246,170 against 229,921, showed a gain of 16,249 or 7.07 per cent. The Rip Van Winkle bridge clocked 252,092 against 240,331 for a gain of 11,761 or 4.89 per cent.

The Labor Day week-end of Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday showed a total of 139,949 over the bridges, a gain of 15,205 over 1953.

The Mid-Hudson clocked a holiday total of 56,873 against 51,449 in 1953 for a gain of 5,424, the Rip Van Winkle had 44,175 against 39,718 for a gain of 4,457, and the Bear Mountain 38,901 against 33,577, a gain of 5,324.

THE KINGSTON-RHINECLIFF ferry carried 13,363 vehicles in August against 12,864 last year for a gain of 494, but showed a drop of 409 in pedestrian travel with 3,477 this year against 3,886 in 1953.

To Convene Legislature

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 9 (AP)—Gov. Robert B. Meyner said today he plans to convene the New Jersey Legislature Friday, Sept. 17. The governor told a news conference he will send a letter to legislative leaders explaining why he thinks a session is necessary and expressing willingness to confer with them. Meyner declined to reveal contents of the letter, but said he would tell the leaders he is willing to let them call the session instead of issuing a proclamation.

Plea Is Rejected

Washington, Sept. 9 (AP)—A federal district judge today turned down a plea to halt plans for racial integration in the Washington public schools. The action came on a motion for a temporary restraining order filed by an all-white Federation of Citizens' Associations. Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut denied the motion after hearing some two hours of argument.

Firemen Are Called

Firemen were called at 1:22 p. m., to check a fire caused by a short circuit in the station wagon of Florence Gilcrist, of Ruby, at Foxhall and Hasbrouck avenues. Central station responded and firemen disconnected the battery.

EDUCATION "PAYS" OFF—The more education a man has, the more money he is likely to earn, according to the U. S. Department of Labor. Above Newschart shows average income for men by age groups and the amount of schooling they completed. The young man with a high school education earns more money at age 30 than the man with only eight years of school earns at age 45 to 54, his highest level.

STAY IN SCHOOL, GIRLS—The advantage of finishing high school is even more marked for girls. The young woman who graduates from high school makes considerably more at age 20 or 21, than the average eighth grader ever reaches. Above Newschart shows average income for women by age groups and amount of schooling completed. Data compiled by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Inspector Is Busted

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—A deputy chief inspector of police was busted quickly to captain today after he cracked down on church bingo games. Insisting that the issue was "insubordination" and not bingo, however, Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams demoted Louis Goldberg and replaced him as head of the Brooklyn morals squad. Goldberg last night walked into three churches and a Knights of Columbus clubhouse where 1,000 women were playing bingo and warned the game was against the law, and must stop hereafter.

President Gives Policy Report for Trade Expansion

Denver, Sept. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower today announced a government policy aimed at expansion of world trade and avoidance of "demoralizing world commodity markets" in disposal of 6 billion dollars worth of surplus farms crops during the next three years.

Under the Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Ace approved by Congress at the last session, surplus commodities valued at 700 million dollars may be sold abroad by the United States during the next 36 months.

"Today, the magnitude of United States holdings of many commodities is such as to be capable of demoralizing world commodity markets should a policy of reckless selling abroad be pursued. This potential greatly alarms other countries despite the fact that past behavior of the United States has shown no intention of pursuing a harmful policy."

THE PRESIDENT added that "it is in the long-run interest of the American farmer, as well as all Americans, for this country to work with other nations in a mutual effort to expand international trade, and to promote the fuller convertibility of currencies, the freer movement of investment capital and the interchange of technical information."

Ike Against High Blown Glass Tax

Denver, Sept. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower today rejected recommendations of three members of the Tariff Commission for an increase on the import duty on certain hand-blown glassware.

In turning down the recommendations, the President said: "The fundamental cause of the difficulties of this industry lies in competition offered by machine-made glassware to both imported and domestic handmade ware."

Eisenhower expressed that view in identical letters to Sen. Milliken (R-Colo.), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Rep. Reed (R-N.Y.), who heads the House Ways and Means Committee.

Eisenhower wrote them that in his view the problems experienced by domestic producers of hand-blown glassware in recent years had not resulted from the existing trade agreement duty concession, but have been caused mainly by the technological change in the field.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—The stock market turned mixed in early afternoon today after drifting moderately lower in the morning.

Selected oils, steels, rails and chemicals were among the better performers. Pacific Western Oil was a feature, ahead two points. Lion Oil also was strong with a gain of nearly a point.

Gains of better than a point were recorded at one time by Consolidated Natural Gas, American Optical, Crucible Steel and Seaboard Airline Railroad, but most other price changes were extremely narrow.

1,500 Will Visit Port Ewen Shrine From New York

A pilgrimage of more than 1,500 from New York will visit the Shrine of Our Lady of the Hudson on the grounds of the Church of the Presentation, Sunday, it was announced today by the Rev. Joseph L. Kerins, CSsR, pastor.

Father Kerins said the pilgrims would be led by Monsignor O'Donnell, chaplain of the Port of New York, and Capt. William V. Bradley, formerly of Kingston, president of the International Longshoremen's Association.

SAILING ON ONE of the Day Line boats, the party will arrive about 1:30 p. m. at the Phelan & Cahill dock on lower East Strand near Tompkins street, and be welcomed by the Holy Name Society of Presentation Church, Thomas J. Murphy, president, and members of the congregation.

There will be a procession from the dock to the shrine, where ceremonies are scheduled for 3 p. m. with Msgr. Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church and dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, presiding.

MAYOR FREDERICK H. STANG will be present to welcome the group in the name of the City of Kingston, and Supervisor Edward Eckert will represent the Town of Esopus.

Our Lady of the Hudson shrine was erected by members of Capt. Bradley's union. The image of the Mother of Christ was sculptored by Tomas Penning of High Woods, and represents her as the guardian of men who sail the river on the various crafts used in the transportation business.

Will Take Exam

Five men now serving as special officers on the local police department are scheduled to take a civil service examination Saturday for possible permanent appointment. A few other candidates are also scheduled to take the examination from which a new list of eligibility will be made. The special patrolmen are Benjamin Osterhoudt, Gilbert Gray, Clarence Bilyou, John Houghtaling and Gerard McCloskey.

Illness Adjourns Court

County Court was adjourned this morning until next Monday at 8 p. m. without transacting any business. The adjournment was due to illness in the immediate family of County Judge John M. Cashin.

CIO May Back

man, the only other declared candidate, because it felt the son of the late President was "the only one in whom the people have confidence."

ASKED WHETHER any Republicans had been considered for endorsement, Hollander said that U. S. Sen. Irving M. Ives of Norwich was the only candidate the GOP had and that his name had not been mentioned at the meeting.

Hollander made public last night his report to the 15th Annual Republican leadership and criticized the state GOP administration for what he termed failure to understand the problems of the people.

Calling the 83rd Congress a "payoff Congress," the state CIO leader criticized its action on taxes, off shore oil, public power and atomic energy. He said the Congress had failed to act on housing and health programs, minimum wages and revision of the Taft-Hartley Act.

HOLLANDER SAID the Dewey administration had "shown greater responsiveness to demands of business and industry than it has to the needs and wishes of the great majority of people in our state."

Speakers listed for this afternoon included John J. Grogan, president of the Marine and Shipbuilding Workers; Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, New York city Democrat.

CIO President Walter Reuther will address the convention's final session on Saturday.

THE EXECUTIVE BOARD drafted a long list of resolutions to be presented to the convention. Among them were proposals to:

1. Present a program to stem what the CIO called the flow of industry away from New York toward the "backward areas."

2. Increase disability benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law from $36 to $40 weekly plus benefits of $4 a week for each dependent up to three dependents, and increase maximum survivors benefits from $40 to $45.

3. Urge enactment of Federal Fair Employment Practices legislation.

4. Call for rescinding the recent fare increase granted the Long Island Railroad.

5. Urge repeal of the Hughes-Brees Amendment to the Unemployment Insurance Act, repeal of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act and repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

6. Call for a national minimum wage of $1.25 an hour.

Verdict Given In Man's Death

A verdict of coronary occlusion was given today by Coroner Francis J. McCardle in the death of Michael Kwasnecki, 74, of RD 3, Saugerties, who was found lying on the floor of his garage late this morning. Kwasnecki's wife discovered the body about 11:50 a. m. and asked a neighbor to call the sheriff's office.

County Identification Officer Earl Conro went to the scene, found the dead man and notified Coroner McCardle.

Kwasnecki, a native of Austria, was a retired metal worker of New York. Besides his wife, he was reported to have four sons as other survivors. Complete funeral services were not announced.

Farm Census Is To Start Oct. 18

A farm census of Ulster county is being planned for this year, according to an announcement from the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, which said that 16 enumerators are to be chosen for the project under the leadership of John T. Groves, former county treasurer and supervisor of the Town of Esopus.

According to Edward J. Amann, field supervisor for the Bureau of Census, crew leaders for the project will attend a training conference in Kingston September 27. The census will start on October 18.

Morhouse Takes

Workmen's Compensation Board, was recommended for head of the Convention Platform Committee.

TAYLOR SAID in a statement issued after the committee meeting that the results of this year's state elections in New York might determine the outcome of the 1956 presidential contest.

Taylor said:

"With that thought in mind, and with a ticket to be headed, I hope, by Sen. Irving M. Ives for governor, which is a ticket certain to find favor with the voters, I am sure we will devote every effort to insure victory at the polls."

Morhouse said in a statement urging Ives to run:

"Sen. Ives stands on his own feet on a record of accomplishment in a full and vigorous career in the Legislature at Albany and in the Senate of the United States.

"We are a united Republican party in New York state and we are fortunate indeed to have the assistance of two of the mightiest forces for victory a party ever had—the program of President Eisenhower which the Congress recently enacted and the remarkably fine record of Gov. Dewey."

Marian Year Novena

There will be a special Marian Year Novena in honor of Our Lady of La Salette from Sept. 11 to Sept. 19 at St. Francis de Sales Church in Phoenicia. Devotions will be held every evening at 7:30 o'clock. Sept. 19 is the anniversary of the apparition of the Blessed Mother at La Salette in France, 1846.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

THE RECORD SHOP: A few weeks back, a New York disc jockey abruptly interrupted playing the new releases and launched into an angry scolding of the record companies for putting out "junk." He said the songs were bad, the arrangements were bad and the performances were bad.

He is wrong.

What is happening is that music, as always, is changing. At present, the trend seems to be toward what's called "rhythm and blues" songs. If you are unfamiliar with that type of creation, the new songs may seem bad. But millions of people like them, and that in itself is sufficient recommendation.

This is not to say that such items as "Sh-Boom" and "Goodnight, Sweetheart, Goodnight," are great contributions to American culture. But neither are they indications that American culture is regressing. They are simple prime examples of the current taste in popular music, and, as such, they demand your respect—or, at least, your attention.

Perhaps by this time next year, another trend will have come. People in the music business say that the mambo craze has yet to reach its peak, so maybe mambos will be on all the juke-boxes then. Maybe the rhythm and blues songs will have run their rowdy course. But, like past crazes, they will have left their impression on American music.

And there always have been musical crazes in America. There was a ragtime craze, a Charleston craze, a conga craze. None of these were any better, musically, than rhythm and blues. So it's unfair for anyone to single out the music of 1954 and slam it as "bad."

After all, such lyrics as "Sh-Boom, sh-boom, ya-ta-ta-ta-ta-ta" take a certain creative talent. You've got to know how many "tas's" to put in.

Jane Morgan's cute novelty on Kapp Records, "Baseball, Baseball" is based on an English song which Dave Kapp found. It was recorded there by Edmundo Ros, and was called "Football, Football." The lyrics were Americanized. Next it may go back to England as "Cricked, Cricket."

George Shearing will desert the quiet instrumental formula which made him famous. It won't be a complete desertion, however. He's recorded four sides for MGM with the Ray Charles Singers—all original Shearing tunes, including a choral arrangement of his great "Lullaby of Birdland."

These will be released one at a time by MGM, with a normal Shearing arrangement on the other side of each vocal record. That's playing it cozy.

McCarthy Says

senators had done in connection with Senate investigations.

THE CHAIRMAN said that if his committee started looking into the activities of other senators the senators in question would have to be called and it would take "hours and days" to do this.

From the witness chair, McCarthy appealed to Watkins not to expedite the hearings "at the expense" of his defense. He said he was being "precluded" from making an adequate defense presentation by the ruling.

Watkins said the committee could review the ruling closed doors later, but he argued that "if we ever let down the bars" and start exploring precedents for McCarthy's actions the hearings could drag out for months.

THE LEGAL BRIEF offered by Attorney Williams contended there was nothing "novel" about the position taken by McCarthy on secret government information.

It said a like position had been taken in the past by Vice President Nixon, Sen. Ferguson (R.-Mich.) and others.

Quoting from a speech made in the House in 1948 by Nixon, when he was a representative from California, Williams said its import "is crystal clear in support of Sen. McCarthy's position."

"If this committee should feel, however, that its meaning is susceptible of the slightest doubt, then, of course, the chair can and should call the vice president to elucidate his position," Williams said.

NIXON WAS a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee at the time of the April 22, 1948, speech from which Williams quoted.

McCarthy's lawyer said Nixon discussed "the refusal of the executive branch to turn over to Congress certain information which had already been published in the newspapers" and quoted him as saying:

"The point has been made that the President of the United States has issued an order that none of this information can be released to the Congress and that, therefore, the Congress has no right to question the judgment of the President in making that decision.

"I say that that proposition cannot stand from a constitutional standpoint."

WILLIAMS' BRIEF quoted Sen. Ferguson as saying to the Senate in a speech on Aug. 7, 1948, that "Congress, no less than the President, is charged with the security of our government and our national life . . . but if, when it tries to do so, the President can deny to Congress the information it needs to legislate intelligently, then the President has gone beyond the prerogatives of his office and threatens the very foundations of representative government."

Here again Williams said that "if any doubt can exist on the subject, the chair should certainly call Sen. Ferguson and request him to explain the exact meaning of his address."

Williams contended in his brief that "Sen. McCarthy by virtue of express statutory law and supreme court precedents was entitled to receive and (government) employes had the duty to give him or someone else in civil authority information on graft, corruption, Communist infiltration and espionage within the executive departments."

Furthermore, Williams said, McCarthy, as chairman of the Senate Government Operations Committee, "has the duty imposed upon him by the Senate itself to get this information."

"Certainly evidence of criminal wrongdoing inside the executive branch does not become sacrosanct and inaccessible because a member of the executive branch stamps it 'confidential.'

"If this were so, the whole system of checks and balances which form the philosophical basis of our Republican form of government could be nullified by the acts of those in the executive department.

"The officers of the executive branch could for all practical purposes immunize themselves via rubber stamp from accountability to the representatives of the people."

WILLIAMS SAID "There is no charge against Sen. McCarthy that he has solicited employes of the executive branch to bring him general 'classified' and 'confidential' information," adding "he has not asked for this."

"He has asked," Williams continued in his brief, "for information on graft, corruption, Communist infiltration and espionage inside the executive branch. He has taken the position that if such evidence exists, it should not remain hidden and ignored."

Before Watkins intervened, McCarthy had testified about the conduct of the munitions investigation in 1934 by Hugo Black, then a senator from Alabama and now a Supreme Court justice.

The Wisconsin senator quoted from a magazine article (Harpers) in which Black wrote that his committee "paid no attention" to confidential stamps on documents dealing with government contracts in the files of the munitions companies.

McCarthy said Black "exposed much wrongdoing and did a great job for the country at that time."

Florida Is Wary

about 300 miles due east of Cape Canaveral, about midway up the Florida peninsula," said Norton. "Its course is eratic and wobbling.

"SEAS ARE reported very rough in the Daytona Beach area and winds are beginning to pick up along the north Florida coast. Small craft from Florida to Cape Hatteras have been warned not to venture into open water.

"The hurricane is big and is still expanding. It just makes good sense to keep a weather eye cocked toward it, and to keep informed on official advices about its movement."

THE MIAMI Weather Bureau said at 5 a. m. (EST) that continued movement toward the north is indicated for the next 12 hours, with the possibility of a low turn toward the north northeast which would carry it up the Atlantic and away from the U. S. mainland.

The storm still had winds up to 115 miles an hour over a small area near the center and hurricane force winds (75 MPH or stronger) extended 50 to 75 miles north and east and 30 miles southwest of the center.

Nassau, capital of the Bahamas and a city of 20,000, boarded up in expectation of getting the hurricane's full force yesterday, but escaped with 30-mile winds as the disturbance passed to the east of the resort.

Air Force Seeks Group of 50 for Mid-Hudson Unit

Kingston area recruits for the Air Force may have the privilege of remaining together throughout their basic training if they enlist in September, according to S/Sgt. Larry MacDonald, non-commissioned officer in charge of Air Force personnel procurement here, with offices in the city hall.

Sergeant MacDonald said a special recruiting drive is underway to organize 50 Dutchess and Ulster county men to form a "Mid-Hudson Flight." He said he had received official notice from Sampson Air Force Base granting him authority to recruit men. The base communication assured him that he would receive their fullest cooperation and support for such a project.

"For area men to remain together throughout their academic, tactical and field training for 53 training days is an unusual opportunity," the Air Force recruiter stated. "We are going to give these Mid-Hudson fighters a real send-off. Present plans for the Flight include a farewell address by a city official in Poughkeepsie the day prior to their departure to Albany for processing at the recruiting headquarters. Parents and friends of the fighters are invited to attend the oath of enlistment ceremony. Two giant airliners will fly the recruits to Sampson Air Force Base at Geneva directly afterward."

UPON COMPLETION of their basic training they will be separated to go on to Air Force technical training schools located throughout the country for further training.

Those desiring to become a member of the flight should contact Sgt. MacDonald at their earliest opportunity. Several young men, he explained, have already enlisted for assignment to the "Mid-Hudson Flight."

One does not have to be a high school graduate for an enlistment in the Air Force, he said. Many young men without diplomas, he said, believe they are not eligible for the Air Force. Only aviation cadet applicants seeking pilot training must be high school graduates or possess an equivalency certificate.

Summer Recreation Program Concludes

Rosendale, Sept. 8—John B. Helmer, Village of Rosendale recreation director for the summer recreation program, announced the conclusion of this year's activities as of September 3.

During the summer, the program consisted of softball, football, badminton, volleyball, hiking, fishing, cycling, and such active games as crows and cranes, and dodge ball. Also, there were Boy Scout activities, ping pong games, darts, field bowling, croquet, nature activities, clay modeling, and when appropriate, quiet games such as Monopoly and Chinese checkers for those desiring them.

Several softball and baseball games were played against teams from Tillson, and one against Camp Dineen.

On August 18, a group of 40 children, from 6 to 14 years of age, took a trip to New York to see the Giants play at the Polo Grounds. Expenses, exclusive of refreshments, were paid from the Village of Rosendale recreation fund.

A fishing derby was held August 29, and several prizes were awarded.

The program was in effect every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Rosendale Public School from July 6 to September 3. During that time, 120 boys and girls from 6 to 16 years of age registered, and attendance averaged 40 in the morning and 30 in the afternoon activities.

Man Leaves Cash To Government

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—German-born Julius Lehmann loved America, and he proved it in his last will and testament.

Lehmann came to this country 50 years ago, and became a prosperous importer. His wife died in 1951. Last June 20, Lehmann died at the age of 92.

In his will, probated yesterday, he left all but $1,000 of his $70,000 estate "to the government of the United States of America to which my wife and I are so much indebted for the blessings we have enjoyed as citizens of this country."

AMERICAN MENU

Encourage Your Children to Plan Their Own Breakfast

SMILING HAPPILY, this nine-year-old prepares to dig into the breakfast he planned and prepared for himself. Encourage your children to plan their own breakfast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Our 9-year-old son used to refuse to eat an adequate breakfast. He would come home from school tired and listless. But now he eats fruit juice, cereal with milk, sometimes an egg, bread and butter or margarine and always a tall glass of milk. And he enjoys it. He also comes roaring home from school ready for strenuous play.

What happened? Well, his mother explained in simple terms the part citrus juice, cereals, protein and milk play in his growing up strong and being able to get better grades and win more games.

She took him to the market and taught him how to select the basic breakfast foods. He felt quite grown-up, being allowed to purchase what he needed for his own breakfast. He could purchase two or three different kinds of packaged cereal and alternate them as he chose, the type of bread he liked best.

In other words, he learned to purchase and plan his own breakfast menu, and on certain occasions was allowed to get it for himself, particularly when he wanted to leave for school very early before the usual family breakfast hour.

In Fargo, N. D., at the Agassiz School, Mrs. Neil Wohlrend followed much the same plan to make her pupils understand why a good breakfast keeps them healthy and able to learn easily.

She taught them about various types of breakfast, how to plan a breakfast for themselves and how grain grows in the field and is processed into the breakfast cereals they need. She then encouraged the children to plan, prepare, serve and eat with enjoyment this type of basic breakfast: Orange juice, choice of a half-dozen, ready-to-eat cereals, hot chocolate with a marshmallow in it, or milk, raisin bread with butter or margarine. Later, the cost of the breakfast was computed during arithmetic class.

Mrs. Wohlrend reports that the result was a group of children much more alert, easier to teach and rarely tired before lunch, as so many of the poor breakfast eaters had been.

She gave us a delicious quick-bread recipe, using breakfast cereal.

Golden Wheat Sticks
(Yield: 12 sticks)

Three quarters cup whole wheat cereal, uncooked; 1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, beaten, ¾ cup milk, ¼ cup melted butter or margarine.

Combine cereal, flour, sugar, salt and baking powder. Add beaten egg and milk; mix lightly. Stir in butter or magarine. Placed in greased corn-stick pans. Bake in hot oven (425-450 degrees F.) about 25 to 30 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Creamed salmon in toast cups, baked potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks, orange layer cake, coffee, tea, milk.

Newspapers Tell India's Reaction

New Delhi, India, Sept. 9 (AP)—Every New Delhi newspaper published a story today saying "Indian reaction" to the signing of the SEATO Treaty "is one of deep regret and grave misgivings about the future."

There was no official comment on the Manila Treaty but the story followed closely views Prime Minister Nehru has expressed previously. The article was put out by the Press Trust of India, a news agency which often reflects the government view.

Indian circles, it said, believe that the "effect of the treaty will be to extend the area of tension rather than the area of peace."

Pants for Home

Elgin, Ill. (AP)—Al Stewart has one pair of pants he is not wearing. They were hanging on the line after a washing when a pair of wrens built a nest in them. Now there are three eggs in the nest and the trousers are pinned securely to the line for the duration.

School News

MARBLETOWN CENTRAL School opened with 410 in attendance the first day, an increase of 39 pupils over last year. This is a record enrollment and the largest group to enter the new central school building since its opening two years ago. The first year of centralization found 250 attending schools in the district. Registration has climbed since then to 325 children in 1953, 371 children in 1954, and it is expected that enrollment will top 430 by June 1955. The last available classroom was made ready to accommodate one section of the second grade. There are two first, second and seventh grades. This year's eighth grade will be the largest class to date to graduate from MCS.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the MCS faculty have attended summer school this year. Bernice Jansen worked to complete her Master's Degree at the State University Teachers College, New Paltz, while at the same time Josephine Lawrence completed work on her Bachelor's Degree. Kathryn Schwarz, monitor, enjoyed two courses at New Paltz: Children's Literature and Music for Children. Charles Ayasse attended the extension department of New Paltz held at the Farmingdale Agricultural School where he took courses in Curriculum Building in the Elementary School, and Guidance. Merton Blanchard went to Plattsburg State Teachers College to attend a course in Administration given by Dr. Henry J. Otto, one of the foremost authorities on administration in the U. S. and author of the book, Elementary School Organization and Administration.

Will Decide Fate

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—An all-male jury will decide the fate of two teenagers who allegedly trampled a Brooklyn man to death because his humming annoyed them. Selection of the jury was completed yesterday and Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz adjourned court until today. The defendants, Ronald Loesch, 16, and Thomas Wysokowski, 17, are charged with first degree murder in the the slaying of 40-year-old Thomas A. Condon, father of four children. the state contends that Condon, a partner in an air conditioning firm, was set upon by the youths as he walked home humming. The pair were drinking beer on a front stoop as Condon strolled along a sidewalk early last July 10.

TB Survey Will Start Oct. 1 in Rochester Town

Volunteers in the Township of Rochester met on Tuesday night at the Grange Hall in Accord to organize committees for the coming chest X-ray survey being held for all residents of Rochester on October 1. Stanley Kelder of Accord, chairman, presided.

Joseph Merola, health education assistant of the Ulster County TB and Health Association explained the organizational set-up of the chest X-ray survey. He stated that the Ulster County Department of Health sponsors the chest X-ray survey. The State Department of Health provides the X-ray unit and takes the pictures. The Ulster County TB and Health Association provides the organization, promotion, publicity and supplementary costs through the Christmas Seals funds.

The X-rays are read by Dr. Herbert Schwartz, medical director at the Ulster County TB Hospital for tuberculosis, certain heart conditions, tumor of the lung and other chest abnormalities. Follow-up on significant reports is carried on by the public health nurses in cooperation with the family physician of the patient.

All persons 15 years of age and over are invited to take advantage of this chest X-ray program.

Bible Thieves

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—Charles Brantley of Jackson used to hide his savings in his Bible. But, that's all over now. It stopped after a visit by two young women friends, identified by police as Alberta Daily and Sarah Thomas. Police said the women grabbed Brantley's Bible containing $680 within its leaves and fled. As they ran, they pulled out the money and threw the Bible away. Police charged the women with grand larceny and recovered most of the money.

Little Interest Is Shown In Shopping for Loans

By ARTHUR MERIMS

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Most Americans believe in "shopping around" before buying a new car, carpet or television set. But when it comes to borrowing money, financial experts say people tend to be careless.

The business of borrowing money is a highly competitive one. Different institutions offer varying services at a wide variety of interest rates. Principal lenders to individuals on a personal basis are commercial banks and small loan companies. But industrial banks (Morris Plan) and credit unions are in the business, too.

PERSONAL LOANS should not be confused with sales credits, though both involve repayment on a regular monthly basis. In a personal loan, an individual borrows money with only his signature as security. A sales credit finances a purchase, like a refrigerator, which can be confiscated if payments are not met.

The personal loan business is one of the safest. Banks reported that during the 1920-21 and 1929-33 depressions, losses from personal loans averaged less than 1½ per cent of total volume. Today, lending institutions say defaults are less than 1 per cent.

OF THE 15,000 commercial banks in this country, nearly 12,000 make personal loans. Bank discount rates range from 3 to more than 6 per cent a year. However, figured on monthly instalments, the simple (or true) borrowing fees are closer to twice those amounts.

There are more than 8,000 consumer finance offices licensed in 37 states and Hawaii under variations of the uniform small loan law. This law protects the borrower by limiting interest charges and requiring companies to state single, all-inclusive rates. Hidden service fees, traditional with "loan sharks," are prohibited.

LICENSED SMALL LOAN companies charge from 2 to 3½ per cent interest per month on unpaid balances. That's usually more than bank rates figured over the year. But finance companies claim their overhead is higher than a bank's in processing small loans. Also, they often will grant a loan when a bank refuses.

The Russell Sage Foundation is generally credited for eliminating "loan-sharking" from much of the nation. This non-profit organization began studying the problems and abuses of small borrowing back in 1907.

The foundation's recommendations led Massachusetts to put the first statute regulating small loans on its books in 1911. New Jersey followed in 1914, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania joined in 1915 and many other states initiated similar laws later.

STILL TODAY, there are seven states (Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas) and the District of Columbia with largely inoperative loaning laws. And four states (Kansas, Montana, North Dakota, South Carolina) have no small loan laws. These states are known as "high rate" areas.

A survey by the National Consumer Finance Assn., representing most licensed small loan companies, disclosed that borrowers of small sums are generally workers of a skilled or semi-skilled nature, including many domestic workers and members of the armed forces. These customers usually earn under $5,000 a year and borrow to pay creditors, consolidating scattered obligations into a single loan.

Among the most frequent reasons for small borrowing are to meet medical, dental, hospital and funeral expenses.

Written Invitation

Lebanon, N. H. (AP)—A sign reading "Open House" on Bob Rousseau's gas station apparently was taken too literally. An employe coming to open the station found a window open and $180 missing from the cash register. The sign, put up to advertise a special offer, was taken down immediately.

So They Say..

It (the Russian church) is contained in itself and has transferred the loyalty which it once showed the Czarist state to the Bolshevist state.
—Mayor Gustav Heinemann of Essen, Germany.

If drivers and not cars are the cause of most traffic accidents, why do we insist on inspecting cars but not the drivers?
—Dr. A. L. Chapman of U. S. Public Health Service.

Kitchen Police

Concord, N. H. (AP)—Somewhere on Mt. Kearsarge, about 40 miles from her home here, Mrs. Joseph Kovner suddenly remembered she had forgotten to shut off the oven. A Kearsarge custodian started a relay in motion. Sunapee State Park was given the word and passed it on to state police, who informed local lawmen. A Concord cruiser sped to the Kovner home and officers shut off the oven. The roast was saved.

About 90 per cent of U. S. grapes used for wine making are grown in California.

Completely Cleaned

Hattiesburg, Miss. (AP)—Dewey Clinton sent his car out to be washed and greased. It came back cleaner than he expected—or wanted. Clinton told Hattiesburg police he had $1,651 hidden under a front seat. The money disappeared along with the dirt.

CLOROX® makes linens more than white... it makes them sanitary, too!

No matter how soiled your family's white cottons and linens become, it's easy to make them beautifully white again with Clorox. For Clorox removes dinginess, stains, even scorch and mildew. It deodorizes, too. Still more important, Clorox disinfects! No other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

Here's another significant fact about Clorox: It is extra gentle...safe to use on white and color-fast cottons and linens, from diapers to delicate lace...because Clorox is free from caustic and other harsh substances, made by an exclusive, patented formula. Furthermore, Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash or washer.

You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!

1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens...Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens...Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

And Clorox helps three ways in routine kitchen cleaning!

Most housewives know what a neighbor means when she says, "I'm going to Clorox my sink." Yes, Clorox is an "action" word, understood by housewives everywhere. For Clorox performs three actions in one...removes stains, deodorizes, disinfects! Hundreds of public health departments recommend the Clorox type of disinfection. Other uses and directions on label.

When it's CLOROX-clean...it's SAFER for family health!

Senate House Series Will Have Lecture On American Silver

The third lecture in the Senate House Association series will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Meyric R. Rogers on the topic of American Silver, Friday, at 8 p. m. at St. James Methodist Church, it was announced by Mrs. E. C. Chadbourne, president of the association. Mrs. Chadbourne has issued an invitation to all members to attend the lecture.

Mr. Rogers is curator of the department of decorative arts, Art Institute of Chicago. Both he and Mrs. Rogers gave an address on the subject of American silver at Williamsburg Forum in January, as highly qualified specialists in this field of American art.

Another speaker will be Robert G. Wheeler, director of Albany Art Institute of History and Art, who is bringing special pieces of silver from the institute's collection. Richard O. Gruver, member of the board of trustees of the association, will introduce the speakers.

The first lecture in the series was given by Dr. Abbott Lowell Cummings, assistant curator of the American Wing, Metropolitan Museum, on early American furniture, illustrated with slides from the museum's collection. The second lecture on modern art was delivered by Professor Karp of State Teachers College, New Paltz. Both lectures were held at St. James Methodist Church, and were well attended.

The association's drive, which started early in March, has resulted in 250 associate members.

Miss Evelyn Boss, H. Mack Robinson Nuptials Are Held

The wedding of Miss Evelyn E. Boss of Stamford, formerly of this city, and H. Mack Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Robinson of Dothan, Ala., took place Saturday, Sept. 4 at 7 p. m. at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The Rev. Clyde H. Snell, pastor of this church, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a dress of shimmering turquoise taffeta with black velvet accessories and a corsage of white talisman roses.

Mrs. Richard Pedone of Stamford was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a navy blue dress with light blue accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

Richard Pedone of Stamford, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

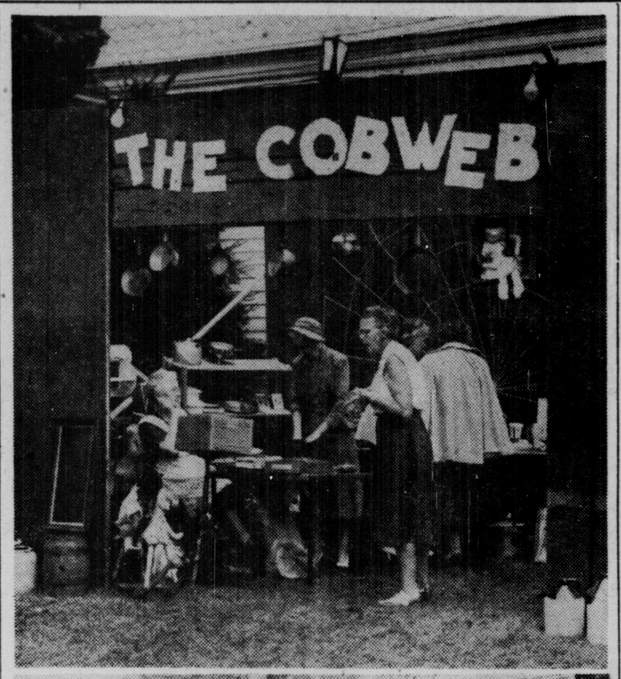

A reception was held for 50 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kirns, Port Ewen. Guests were present from Kingston, Newburgh, Laurel, Md., Stamford, Shokan, Port Ewen, and Dothan, Ala.

The couple left on a trip through the Adirondacks. They plan to visit the bridegroom's home in Alabama in December, and spend the winter in Florida and New Mexico. At present, they will make their home at 257 Washington street, Newburgh.

The bride has been employed at Meyer Levy, Inc., in this city. The bridegroom is an engineer with Gil Wyner, Inc., at Monroe.

WHEN A GUEST BREAKS SOMETHING

A daughter writes: "For my mother's birthday, father bought an extremely beautiful and expensive vase made out of antique china which she had admired very much. Several days later a neighbor came in for a chat and accidently brushed against it, breaking it into thousands of tiny pieces so that it was beyond repair. The next night this same neighbor came in and brought mother a cake she had baked, explaining again how sorry she was for the damage done. Evidently she meant this cake as payment for the vase, and does not intend to replace it. I think she is definitely under obligation to do so. My father thinks that as it was an accident there is absolutely nothing to do but forget it. What is your opinion?

I agree with your father.

Pleasing to the Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to offer congratulations to the parents of the bride and groom at a wedding? I hear wedding guests say this very often and to me it does not seem right. Will you please tell me if such a greeting is proper, and if not, what is the correct thing to say to the parents of the bride and groom?

Answer: You don't congratulate them. You say, "How lovely Mary looks;" "What a handsome couple they are"; "How lovely your daughter-in-law is" —in other words, something appreciative about the bride and groom.

Opening of Medical Office

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have just received a printed announcement of the opening of a medical office by my niece's husband. Will you please tell me if this requires any acknowledgment? My husband thinks we should send flowers of good luck.

Answer: It is not necessary to send flowers. The point of his sending you a notice is that he hopes you will send for him when you are ill!

Are you puzzled about writing "thank you" notes or a note of condolence? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her booklet No. 502, includes model notes and describes proper stationery for all occasions. To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Dorotha Wilson, Joseph Cook, Jr. United in Marriage

The wedding of Miss Dorotha Ann Wilson, daughter of Mrs. C. L. Smith, 248 Elmendorf street, and Joseph Virgil Cook, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Cook of 51 Edmund street, Uniontown, Pa., took place Tuesday, August 31, at 5 p. m. at First Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William C. Gain.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony, at the bride's home, for members of the wedding party and the immediate families.

The bride wore a street length gown of coral pink faile taffeta in princess style with a scoop neckline and white accessories. She carried a bouquet of fleur d'amour and swansonia.

Miss Vaughn L. Lainhart of Altamont, classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a slate blue faille taffeta street length dress similar in style to that of the bride, with pink accessories, and carried a bouquet of rapture roses.

John M. Maney, 2nd, of New York city, a classmate of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride, who is also a daughter of Paul R. Wilson of Oakland, Calif., graduated from Kingston High School and Union University School of Nursing, Albany, class of 1952. For the past year and a half she has been on the nursing staff of Presbyterian Medical Center Hospital, New York city.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Uniontown High School and Kings Point Merchant Marine Academy. At present he is a captain in the Maritime Service.

Coach House Fashion Show Features New Dior Look in Styles for Autumn

A first look at the new Dior fashion decree of the lowered waistline and H look was featured in the preview of fall fashions shown by Coach House Players at Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday evening. Sharing the spotlight with the controversial "new look" were fashion trends in knitted dresses, black and white tweeds or tweeds of any attractive mixtures, and a narrowed shoulder line.

Milady will wear bright hats with her subtle shades in afternoon dresses to brighten the fashion picture. Lined dresses for a better fitting line and low necklines for both sport clothes and dress clothes are also important points to note. Greys of many variations are popular. The choice of sheath or a princess silhouette for occasions are up to madame as both are being shown again this year.

HELEN DAVENPORT, commentator for the entire show, welcomed the change to the Dior look, saying that it is not as frightening as it may seem at first. In fact, the 22-inch waistline is not necessary, since the lower waistline is flattering to almost any figure, she said.

Background music on the organ was again played by James Sweeney, as the models walked before the audience on the platforms in the Crystal Room. Because of the weather, the show was not held outdoors, but as the commentator noted, Mrs. Raymond Gross moved the garden indoors, with attractive floral decorations as a setting for the styles.

Fashions for the grade school set by Adler's were shown first. Flaring skirts and princess lines in coats and dresses, and the ever popular jumpers were flattering to the youthful misses. An idea borrowed from big sister was the outfit worn by Diane Smith, separates in a lilac corduroy skirt and matching boy shirt.

Another fashion tailored for the young was the camel wool fleece in the French version of the boy coat with the half belted back worn by Cynthia Baker. Turquoise, a popular color in a coat set was worn by Cindy Rose.

THE NOVELTY VEST and popular pink shirt with gray slacks was worn by Timothy O'Reilly setting the pace for the very young man about town. Sturdy jackets and corduroy slacks were practical back-to-school styles for the boys.

Other models for Adler's were Vickye Eckert, Bonnie and Gail Crowell, Cathy Burns, Melaine Freeman, Mary O'Reilly, Mary Stephane Corsones, Rosemary Dwyer, Lydia Newcombe, Rosebud Zucker, Cheryl Walker, Jacqueline Van Ohlen, Margaret O'Reilly, Diane Thomas, Carol Vigna, and Barbara Vitarius.

Also modeling the youthful styles were Jeffrey Elwyn, Leland Forst and Dougles Freeman.

Attractive knitted dresses were shown by Jane Ann Rowe, from the Town Shop, Mrs. Olive Snyder, London's, Gloria Casciaro, from Rae Barth, and Eve Wulff from the Barbizon. In soft shades, the dresses were of pure wool and also in blends with nylon, washable, and all of them almost wrinkleproof.

TWEEDS WERE SHOWN in suits and a costume of a blouse trimmed with tweed matching the skirt, the latter worn by Miss Barbara Leventhal modeling for Barbizon Shop.

Costume suits were shown in many variations, such as the anglo wool, with dolman sleeves and pencil slim skirt worn by Miss Dolores Misove for Berta Merle. Emphasizing the new look was the muted black and green tweed suit worn by Miss June Coniglio for Goldman's.

The Dior decree of lowered waistline was featured in the anthracite gray wool from Helen Davenport worn by Miss Laura De Cicco, with a fiesta pink velvet hat for accent.

An unusual dress of black wool chiffon broadcloth featuring the covered look was shown by Mrs. Harry Le Fever, Jr., for Goldman's.

Mrs. Kay Gilligan modeled a navy dress for Wonderly's in new fabric, pimacron, in a full-skirted style made formal by the tiny rhinestone buttons. Another swirling skirted dress was the one worn by Gloria Lamphere from the Cricket Shop, copied from the original worn by Audrey Hepburn in her latest picture.

FOR CASUAL WEAR Miss Joan Erena modeled popular charcoal Bermuda shorts and a white turtle-neck sweater. Toreador pants in black velvet, from Wonderly's and shown by Kay Gilligan, and Capri pants worn by Patty Burke, from London's are added notes for lounging comfort.

A stunning coat in red chinchilla in the boy coat style with the wide belt in the back was worn by Yolanda Kriz for Regina.

Graceful cocktail dresses, in sheer wool, peau de soie and pale brocades, and evening gowns designed for the dramatic look, were shown by the participating shops.

Furs by Leventhal's to interest the junior miss were an innovation this year, shown in muskrat cape stole, shrug cape, leopard cat jacket, and blonde sheared raccoon.

Also new were furs from the Custom Made Department at the store, a black Persian lamb with a deep collar of natural cerulean mink; blonde sheared beaver in a full length coat; and a let-out muskrat coat, "mink's closest rival," in the black diamond mink color.

THE PARADE OF MINKS featured a natural silver blue mink shrug cape; a natural heather mink cape jacket, with tuxedo front and cape sleeves, to be worn around the clock. The wild mink coat with a full rolling collar and four tier sleeves, and the cerulean mink, both full length, completed the showing of furs.

In the wedding scene by the Bride's Shoppe, Miss Margaret Danford as the maid of honor wore a gown of turquoise blue and a princess half crown, while the bride, Miss Betty Ann Bruck, wore a gown of imported hand clipped Chantilly lace and a bridal cap of matching lace. Both carried bouquets from Rosendale Florist.

George Betts acted as the bridegroom in formal dress, and Charles Back displayed a Tony Martin tuxedo as best man.

The male side of the fashion picture was supplied by Flanagan's, and featured the bright vests, sport coats, and charcoal slacks, as well as flannel and worsted suits. Also modeling for Flanagan's was Norman Shapiro.

THE MODELS for the show included Mrs. Kay Gilligan, for Wonderly's; Yolanda Kriz, for Regina's; Jane Ann Rowe, Town Shop; Mrs. Olive Snyder, London's; Joan Erena, Junior Deb; Barbara Leventhal, Barbizon Shop; Fran Cragan, Junior Deb; Eve Wulff, Barbizon; Gloria Casciaro, Rae Barth; June Coniglio, Goldman's; Dolores Misove, Berta-Merele; Lillian Saccoman, London's; Jane Howard, Cricket Shop; Joan Curtain, Patty Burke, London's; Mrs. Anne Le Fever, Goldman's; Jewel Cioni, Town Shop; Arlene Margolis, Berta Merle; Laura De Cicco, Mrs. Gifford Beal, and Mrs. Alma Pfrommer and Sally Castiglione, Helen Davenport; Marie Martino, Gloria Lamphere, Cricket Shop.

Hats for some ensembles were by Theresa Rose. The committees preparing the fashion show were headed by Mrs. Richard Becker, Mrs. Kay Finn and Mrs. Gross.

George Betts, president of the Coach House Players, welcomed the capacity audience to the showing. He announced that the fashion show is but one activity of the group, since three plays wil be given this year, starting with "Three's a Family."

Stage direction was perfect on this delightful preview of autumn and winter styles, becoming a habit with the Coach House, with this the fourth annual presentation.

Ruth Van De Bogart Is Engaged to Wed

The engagement of Miss Ruth Crane Van De Bogart to Vernon A. Henricksen of Oceanside, L. I., has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Van De Bogart of Wittenberg. Mr. Henricksen is the son of Mrs. Myrtle Henricksen and the late Anthony Henricksen of Tallahasee, Fla. The wedding will take place October 24, at Woodstock Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m.

Chance Meeting

Charlottesville, Va. (AP)—Two army nurses driving from Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., to New York, by different routes hadn't counted on a chance meeting here. Lt. Irene Kay Walent's car crashed into the rear of another on the outskirts of this city. Driving the other car was her friend, Lt. Elizabeth Quigley. Result was some property damage but no serious injury.

Clam Patties

Clam patties are delicious for Friday night supper. Mix canned minced clams with a beaten egg and cracker crumbs; add a little of the clam liquid, so the patties will hold together, and a little grated onion for seasoning. Fry in patty-shape in deep fat and serve with catchup or chili sauce, baked potatoes and a green salad.

School Rolls Higher Than '44

In the past 10 years registration in the Kingston school system has increased approximately 20 per cent with registration on Wednesday, the second day of school, being 5,463. On a like day in 1944 the registration in the city's schools was 4,558, 905 less than this year.

Elementary school had a total of 2,863 at the close of registration Wednesday, Myron J. Michael School 837 and the high school 1,763 for a total of 5,463.

This registration may vary slightly before final figures are available.

Fifty-Five Candidates Report for KHS Football Practice

Only Four Veterans Return From '53 Team

Fifty-five Kingston High football candidates are drilling daily at Dietz Stadium under the watchful eye of Coach Bill Burke and his staff but only two of the returnees were in the starting lineup against Newburgh Academy last Thanksgiving Day.

Fred Jackson is back at left end and Gene Massa promises to deliver another All-DUSO performance in the backfield.

Bob Ritter, a lineman, and halfback Charlie Johnson, a speedster who was slowed by injuries last year, are among other holdovers.

From there out it looks like a lot of hard work for the Maroons who launch their 1954 season with a night game against Christian Brothers Academy at Hawkins Stadium in Albany on Friday, Sept. 24.

VIRTUALLY A WHOLE line has to be rebuilt. Among the missing stalwarts are Bob Munson, Ray Gallo, Dick LeFevre, LeRoy Kuntz, Bill Engle and John Turck.

Roger Billings, quarterback, has departed along with Ray Roux and Leroy Giannuzzi of the 1954 backfield.

The backfield picture is bright enough, but most football games are won up front. That's why Coach Burke's problems are greater than at any time in recent years.

MASSA AND JOHNSON will give Kingston a solid one-two threat in the backfield. Then there are other guys who can carry the mail, fellows like Nippy Mannello, Ronnie Ashdown, Bob Nash, Neil Keyser and Ronald Dittus, the pole vaulter.

Jim Jackson, who starred as a freshman two years ago was sidelined with injuries in 1953, has returned to the team and is rated a good prospect. So are Leroy Johnson and Bob Smith of last year's squad.

THREE CAPABLE candidates —Joe Aiello, Ronald Gray and John Woolsey—will battle for one of the end positions.

At the moment there are five guard candidates and a final decision on this group will not be made for several days. The guardsmen include Dave Christiana, James DeCicco, Andy Lee, Tony Koenig and Alo Saluste.

Pete Steketee and Al Wood of last year's reserve list head the tackle aspirants. Others who will be battling for the vital line spots are John Miller, Tommy Neal, Joe Boyle and Pat Mitchell.

JOHN THURIN is the only experienced center, but Burke has considerable size and potential class in big guys like Pete Blanschan and Lee Kias, and Bob Lasher.

Workouts continue daily at Dietz Stadium, with Russ Cunningham and Bill Hurley assisting Burke.

Charles Appears Confident; Says Foe No Superman

Monticello, Sept. 9 (AP)—Ezzard Charles well remembers the pasting he took from Rocky Marciano in their last heavyweight championship fight. And so does his manager, Tom Tannas.

Therefore, the reasoning is that the memory of the last battle will have a bad psychological effect on Ezzard, who climbs into the Yankee Stadium ring against Marciano in just six days.

"Only the match will disclose that," said the challenger yesterday as he resumed heavy drills that will keep him busy until Monday. "I feel the same as I did before our last meeting. I might say even better. I know what to expect and will have a better offense and defense.

"I know, and I think that I proved, that Rocky is no superman. If it weren't for that wild crippling blow to the Adam's apple in the ninth, I'm certain my performance would have been even better."

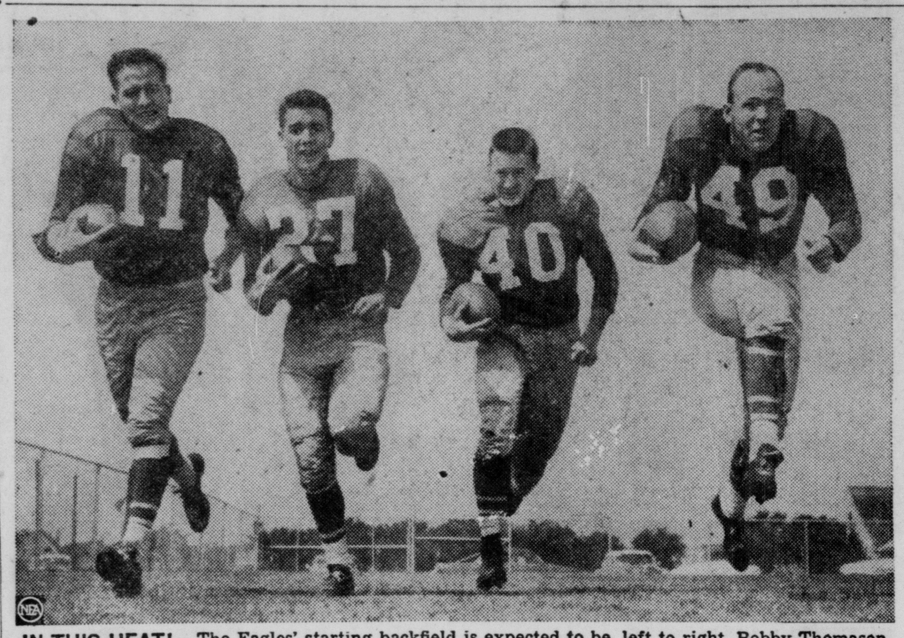

FOR CHARLES, that's a long speech. But he did appear confident.

Unless he is throwing up a smokescreen, Charles will trade punches with Marciano. That's just what the Rock and his manager, Al Weill, want, so they say, so someone is making a mistake.

Tannas frowned when the psychological effect of Marciano's mauling was mentioned.

"No one ever seems to consider that Marciano received more punishment in that fight than he did in any other tough match," Tannas said. "Ezzard always has recovered quickly after every contest and never has showed any ill effects. Only the next fight will reveal who suffered the most from their first match."

Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' manager, thinks that drag bunts are as important as home runs to win games.

Wynn Fourth Hurler To Hit 20-Win Mark

Spahn, Trucks, Grim May Join Later

(By The Associated Press)

The 20-game club, that exclusive circle of pitchers that gets special mention in the record books, probably will wind up with six members this season.

Four have made the grade so far with Early Wynn of the fast-moving Cleveland Indians the newest recruit.

Wynn passed his entrance exams with flying colors last night, throwing an eight-hit 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics, and a long-time associate of the elite, Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, moved next in line by winning No. 19 for the rip-roaring Braves, 5-2 over Pittsburgh.

On hand to greet Wynn, who has won 20 or more twice before, were teammate Bob Lemon, a six-time member; Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies who has been in good standing for five consecutive seasons and newcomer Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants.

With Spahn, a member five times previously, almost certain to join soon, the only other live prospects appear to be Virgil Trucks (18-8) of the Chicago White Sox, who won 20 last season, and rookie Bob Grim (17-6) of the New York Yankees.

Two of last year's members, Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals and Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers, have won 16 apiece and it's doubtful that they will have time to make it.

WYNN'S VICTORY last night kept Cleveland 4½ games ahead of the Yankees who beat Baltimore 8-2 in Tommy Byrne's return to the majors. Milwaukee moved within four game of the rain-idled Giants while Brooklyn slipped six games back by losing to St. Louis 6-5.

In other action Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 9-3 and took over fourth place from the Phils; the Chicago White Sox shaded Washington 2-1 and the Red Sox beat Detroit 5-2. Rain washed out the Giants' scheduled home game with Chicago.

Spahn won his 11th game in a row by blanking the Pirates on three hits after giving up two runs in the first inning. Eddie Mathews hit his 36th home run with Joe Adcock on base in the third.

Twice before the Braves have won 10 straight game and they had one nine-game streak. Their next game is tomorrow night in Brooklyn.

Erskine lost his chance to stay in the running for the 20-game club by failing to hold a two-run lead in the ninth inning against the Cardinals. He escaped the loss since he left with the tieing runs on base. Joe Cunningham cashed them in against relief pitcher Jim Hughes, then scored the winning run on Rip Repulski's single. Haddix pitched the ninth inning for the Cardinals, saving the victory for rookie Gordon Jones.

BIG TED KLUSZEWSKI of the Redlegs drove in three runs and started a four-run Cincinnati rally in the sixth with his 45th home run, six more than anybody else in either league.

Byrne, waived out of the majors last season because of wildness, walked only four and struck out four in beating Baltimore. But the Yankee lefthander stood out even more as a hitter. He scored the first run after tripling in the third and he banged a base-loaded double to put the Yanks ahead to stay in the fourth.

Morrie Martin, making his second start for the White Sox, allowed only two singles until he gave way to Don Johnson with one out in the ninth against Washington. Johnson gave up one more in finishing. The Sox raked Porterfield for 13 hits but left 11 men stranded.

Ted Williams went hitless in three times at bat in Boston's victory over Detroit. The Red Sox broke open the close game with consecutive home runs by Sam Mele and Sam White in the eighth.

Braves Cop 10th in Row Third Time

Pittsburgh, Sept. 9 (AP)—Jolly Cholly Grimm's Milwaukee Braves—winners of 10 straight games and only four behind the league leading New York Giants—open a two game series with Brooklyn tomorrow and by the time it's over not a tree may be standing in Flatbush.

"We're hot," chortled Grimm after the Braves' 5-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday. "Very hot. If we can get by the Dodgers— and we're playing them one-by-one, maybe we can squeeze by the New York Giants. But it's a big order.

"Everything depends on the Giants. If they fold and we win—well it will be a big story. But let me remind you—we're playing them one-by-one. Yes, I mean one-by-one.

"THE PIRATES weren't any pushovers. They had us 2-1 in the first inning. I wasn't worried. Never worry until the last out. But you might say, Charley was a little perturbed!"

The victory not only was the Braves 10th in a row but marked the third time this season they've accomplished the feat. It also was Warren Spahn's 19th victory of the season and the 11th in a row for the lefthander.

Spahn, who has 10 defeats, gave up only three hits in the last eight innings. But the crafty lefthander showered all the credit for his victory on third sacker Eddie Mathews who hit his 36th home run with one aboard in the third. The blast landed in the fifth row of the right tier seats. He's now hit a home run in every National League ball park this season.

Byrne Gives Yanks Boost On Arm, Bat

Baltimore, Sept. 9 (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel says the forlorn hopes of the New York Yankees to overtake the Cleveland Indians for the American League pennant depends on improved pitching and a prodigal son, Tommy Byrne, has given him some encouragement.

Byrne returned last night to the Yankees after a three-year absence to pitch and bat them to an 8-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

The 34-year-old Byrne was bought last Friday from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League where he had a 20-10 record. The southpaw's first appearance in a Yankee uniform since 1951 and in the city of his birth turned out to be a holiday for him.

He gave the Orioles only seven hits, getting them out in order in five innings.

AT THE PLATE, Byrne got the first four runs for himself. He scored after tripling in the third and cleared the loaded bases in the next inning with a double.

Prior to his taking a quick chance on Byrne in last night's game, Stengel was saying that the Yankees need better pitching both to stay in the pennant race and to win 100 games this season.

"If we get the pitching we'll win the 100," Stengel said. The Yankees need only six more victories in 16 games to reach the century mark.

But Casey concedes winning 100 games is going to be easier than catching Cleveland.

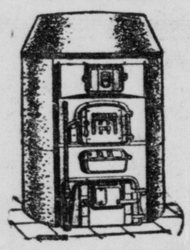

"I've been saying for three weeks that we're going to have to win every game, and we haven't because of the pitching," he said. "Cleveland loses, too, but we're just where we were then."

That's 4½ games behind as Cleveland also won last night over Philadelphia.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

The seeds that were sown on the Little League diamond back in 1951 paid off handsome dividends on the baseball battlefields of Bridgeport, Conn., over the weekend.

Seven of the young stars who figured prominently in the Fraternal Youth League's victory in the National Junior Baseball tournament were members of the first Little League all-star array in 1951.

Two of the brightest performers in Bridgeport were Joey Hoffman, who delivered the winning blows in two of Kingston's three victories, and Ronnie Ashdown. Bill Cragan, Tony Turck, Dick Hornbeck, Charlie Bishop and Jim Uhl also played on that first LL dream team in Kingston.

The FYL triumph in Bridgeport reflects great credit not only on Little League baseball, but the FYL itself and the city in general. The young men, making the grade on their third trip, were given a royal welcome on their return to the city and were treated in regal fashion while in Bridgeport.

NOT ENOUGH CAN be said in praise of young Giannuzzi, who was the standout pitcher in the tournament. His first triumph, studded with 14 Ks and a brilliant relief chore in the clincher against Williamsport justified pre-tournament hopes. He entered the game with two outs and the bases loaded in the first inning after Bridgeport had taken a 2-0 lead against Jim Uhl. Giannuzzi fanned the next hitter. Then in the closing stages he struck out the last five batters.

The FYL officials and managers are rightfully proud of their team. Manager Ed Jordan, Coach Lou Sapp and President Charlie Higgins can look back on a season that probably exceeded their fondest hopes. There have been personality conflicts among the oldies of the FYL from time to time, but the kids seemed to come out all right.

The hospitality at Bridgeport was fabulous, according to local fans and parents who made the trip. On the other hand, one Bridgeport official with whom we talked paid high tribute to their sportsmanship and all round deportment of the Kingston youths.

WHILE ON THE subject of junior baseball, we cannot overlook the accomplishment of the so-called Ulster county "dream team" of Little Leaguers from Kingston, Highland and Saugerties.

Their loss to Waverly by a 2-1 score in a battle of one-hitters was a real heartbreaker. The duel between Highland's Dom DiCapua and the young lad from Waverly was a pitching classic. It was a tough tournament with seventeen of the top Little League teams in the state competing. And but for an unfortunate lapse of control by DiCapua the Ulster team would have reached the finals. DiCapua struck out 15 in the seven inning game. That didn't leave much work for the other kids.

THE JOHNSON CITY tournament is bound to grow in stature and should serve as a stimulus for local Little Leaguers. Then there is the FYL and the Bridgeport tournament. There are many reasons why local Little Leaguers, Rec Leaguers and FYL players should stay on the ball.

FINAL FILBERT: One of the proudest men in town when the FYL triumph was reported was Bob Umpleby, who quickly reminded listeners that the bulk of the squad emerged from the first LL in Kingston. Joe Fabiano, Bob Graves, Chet Barth and Jack Rivenberg of Saugerties rate a big hand for their work with the county team. And how about little Terry Craft of Saugerties with three homers in three games. With such pleasant memories of the 1954 junior baseball season, it's nice to watch football move into the spotlight.

Ambitious Zoo Keeper

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—An 11-year-old is fighting city hall here in an attempt to establish a zoo in the city's Wildwood Park. Young Newton Gingrich told Mayor Claude Robins and four city councilmen that he and a number of youthful buddies could round up enough animals to get the project started if granted use of the park.

Buggy Booze

Lynchburg, Va. (AP)—Police found some bottles containing a potent formula nestled in a baby carriage during a raid on a home here. Covered in the buggy were 12 half-gallon jars of illegal whiskey. Four more jars were discovered in a tub of baby clothes covered by an overturned basket. Ten persons were arrested.

Andrews Kayoes Hughes; Maxim Bout Is Sought

Chicago, Sept. 9 (AP)—Paul Andrews, a rangy 6-3 ex-paratrooper who has a hard time shedding weight to the 175-pound level, is being groomed to take on Joey Maxim next in a campaign for the light-heavyweight crown held by Archie Moore.

After Andrew's second round knockout of Bobby Hughes in Chicago Stadium last night, the International Boxing Club swung into action to land Maxim for the 24-year-old Buffalo belter.

"I'll see Doc Kearns (Maxim's manager) in New York next week," said Truman Gibson, IBC secretary. "We want to match Andrews and Maxim for Chicago Stadium or Buffalo, probably in November."

ANDREWS, WHO boxes with the stoic expression of Louis and in many ways resembles the former heavyweight king, was impressive last night against little-known Hughes.

Hughes, a Warren, Ohio, product who has scored 19 knockouts in 37 bouts, gave Andrews trouble in a savage first round of the nationally-televised scrap schedule for 10.

But Andrews in the second round caught Hughes as he was ducking in close with a whistling right. Hughes sagged to his knees, then to his haunches and finally streached out on his side.

He couldn't get up for several minutes after taking the 10 count, and when he was helped to his feet his nose and mouth were bleeding.

Andrews outweighted Hughes 180 to 176. It was his 29th victory—15th by a kayo—in 32 bouts.

Adios Harry Wins

Westbury, Sept. 9 (AP)—Adios Harry, leading candidate for Little Brown Jug honors in Delaware, Ohio, this month, showed his heels to a field of six pacers last night winning the Georgia Pace by a half length over Knox Hanover in 2:02 at Roosevelt Raceway. Paige Direct was third. Adios Harry returned $4.30.

Sportsmen Will Convene Tonight

Members of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, Inc., will be host tonight at 8 o'clock to the Federated Sportsman's Club of Ulster County.

According to Abe Rand of Ellenville, president, floodlights will be turned on tonight for the Lake Katrine shoot scheduled Friday, Sept. 24. Anyone wishing to shoot practice at trap clay pigeons may do so before or after tonight's meeting.

Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the business session.

Wrong Face

Bartlesville, Okla. (AP) — A youngster riding his bike past a clock-thermometer sign downtown, keeled over, bicycle and all, yelling "Wow, 140, how hot can it get!" The youth had been looking at the wrong part of the sign—it was 1:40 p. m.

New Weapon

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station cheerfully agrees with complaining housewives that the fly population is bigger. It explains that two special varieties, both somewhat larger than the common housefly, have been imported to control the gypsy moth, an insect that defoliates trees.

Falls Are Retreating

Niagara's Canadian falls have retreated upriver at the rate of two to four feet a year for 100 years, says the National Geographic Society.

Red China . . .

credited with sinking six motorized junks, damaging 20 others and capturing three in waters between Wuyuo island and Cape Chenhai on the mainland, another target for Nationalist bombardment.

The Red China radio at Pieping claimed two F47 Nationalist fighters were shot down and four others were damaged in attacks on the Amoy area yesterday.

A BROADCAST heard in London said the Nationalist raiders dropped 104 bombs, killing or injuring 51 civilians.

Dulles drove directly from the airport to Chiang's downtown Taipeh headquarters for their first meeting since 1938 in Hankow. Later the two drove to Chiang's home for lunch and a long talk.

Attending the session with Dulles were Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.), State Department official Douglas McArthur II and Rankin.

In their private talks Dulles and Chiang are believed to have discussed the general outlook in the Far East and the "vest pocket war" which has developed around Quemoy since Friday.

Some observers speculated that Chiang pressed for a U. S. Mutual Security Treaty linking the two nations together and urged again that his Nationalist armies be given sufficient support to invade the mainland.

230,000 Attend

trict police officials estimated that number were in the stadium and more than 80,000 others were unable to gain admission.

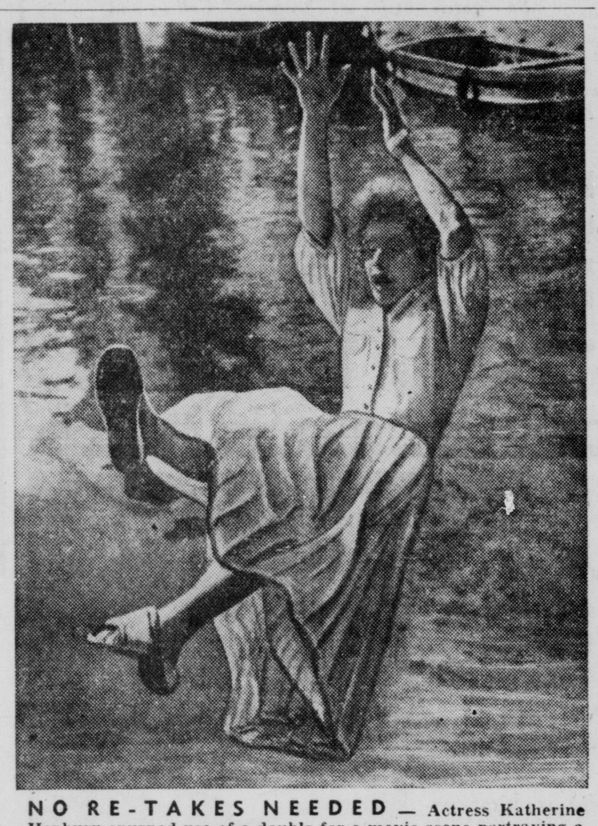

More than 8,000 men, women and children participated in the program. Included were four choirs of 4,000 voices, some 1,600 priests and prelates, Catholic fraternal groups, the American Legion color guard and drum and bugle corps and gaily costumed groups representing 16 of the nationalities of persons of the archdiocese.

Except when voices were raised in song or when a vast unison of prayers were chanted, the great congregation was in reverent silence. One of the most solemn of the preliminary events was the massed recital of the Marian Year prayer, led by Samuel Cardinal Stritch.

In his sermon, the cardinal said the purpose of the gathering was to express "our deep, filial love for the mother of God and to beg her to intercede with her Divine Son for us and for all men in our miseries and necessities."

He recalled that the event was being held as a devotion of the Marian Year proclaimed a year ago by Pope Pius XII. The Marian Year marks a century since the promulgation of Pope Pius IX in 1854 of the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception.

Msgr. William J. Gorman, chairman of the Tribute Committee, described the Marian rally as the "greatest public demonstration of religious faith since the Eucharistic Congress in Chicago in 1926."

NO RE-TAKES NEEDED — Actress Katherine Hepburn spurned use of a double for a movie scene portraying a tourist's fall into Venice, Italy, canal and took the plunge herself.

Program Is Slated At Firemen's Home

Hudson Valley Day will be celebrated at the Firemen's Home in Hudson Sunday, Sept. 12, and all firemen and their families are invited, it was announced today.

A short parade will be held from St. Charles Hotel to the Firemen's Home starting at 2:30 p. m. a program of entertainment and a tour through the buildings and grounds also will be featured.

Mayor Announces

alderman, who was appointed several months ago to fill the unexpired term of Joseph E. Honig, of 309 Albany avenue, on the Board of Public Works, has been reappointed for four years. His term is due to expire Sept. 8, 1958.

LIESKE SAID he was resigning as plumbing inspector to become active again in the plumbing trade. It is expected that the Board of Water Commissioners will act at its next meeting to fill the position left vacant by C. Lester Legg in the water department.

Miss Burr is leaving the city treasurer's office to accept a position with the Ulster County Savings Institution.

Protest Is Rejected

Moscow, Sept. 9 (AP)—Rejecting the second American protest over the shooting down of a U. S. Navy bomber off Siberia, Russia asked last night what would happen "in case Soviet war planes began patrol flights near the border of the United States." A Soviet note, delivered by messenger to the American embassy here, accused the United States of "crude provocation" in its patrol flights near Russia in the Far East and demanded that measures be taken to prevent further incidents.

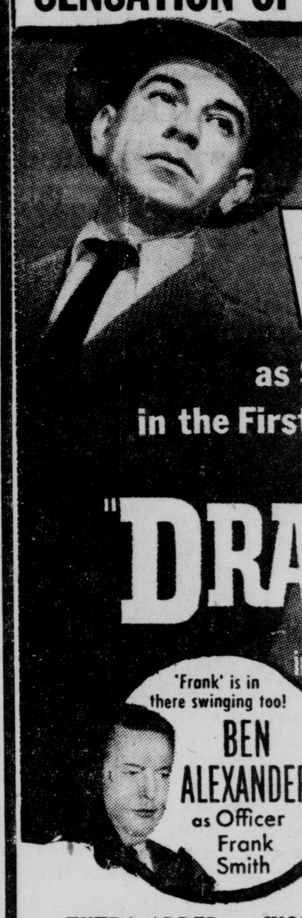

Man Is Electrocuted

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—Michael Block, 41-year-old partner in the Pyramid Optical Co., 153 Center street, was accidentally electrocuted yesterday while repairing an electrical machine at his place of business. Block was a resident of 712 Gunhill Road, the Bronx. A partner, Benjamin Shuzman, of 2487 Grand avenue, the Bronx, was present when the accident occurred. The firm is an optical equipment wholesale house.

HURRICANE VEERS NORTH—Arrow locates course of Hurricane Edna, moving over the northern Bahama Islands, as it appears to be taking a more northerly course Sept. 8. Centered about 120 miles northeast of Nassau and 270 miles due east of Miami, if its present course is maintained, the danger of the storm reaching the Florida coast is lessened. (AP Wirephoto Map).

News of Our Own Service Folks

PFC. EDGAR BROWN of 63 Wrentham street left for Europe, September 2 with the 185th Signal Battalion. In service for 12 months, he is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brown of the same address and the husband of the former Miss Elizabeth Malia of New Jersey.

Rex Yost, Route 42, Shandaken, re-enlisted for three years for the adjutant generals department.

Hurricane Care Urged in State

New York, Sept. 9 (AP)—New Yorkers should take precautions against Hurricane Edna, moving up from the south, the weather bureau said this afternoon. The bureau declared that though it was impossible to say for certain that the New York area would be hit by the new hurricane, "it is well to assume that we will be hit."

"New Yorkers will be wise to take precautions against the possible effects of the hurricane," the bureau spokesman said.

"However, there still will be more than 24 hours in which to batten down the hatches, even if we are absolutely sure the hurricane will hit us."

Regional Forecast
